Exploring Emotions, Aesthetics and Wellbeing in Science Education
Research Alberto Bellocchi, Cassie Quigley, Kathrin Otrell-Cass, 2016-10-19 This book addresses new research directions focusing on the emotional and aesthetic nature of teaching and learning science, informing more general insights about wellbeing. It considers methodological traditions including those informed by philosophy, sociology, psychology, and education, and how they contribute to our understanding of science education. In this collection, the authors provide accounts of the underlying ontological, epistemological, methodological perspectives and theoretical assumptions that inform their work and that of others. Each chapter provides a perspective on the study of emotion, aesthetics, or wellbeing using empirical examples or a discussion of existing literature to unpack the theoretical and philosophical traditions inherent in those works. This volume offers a diverse range of approaches for anyone interested in researching emotions, aesthetics, or wellbeing. It is ideal for research students who are confronted with a cosmos of research perspectives but also for established researchers in various disciplines with an interest in researching emotions, affect, aesthetics, or wellbeing.

Adaptive Environmental Management Catherine Allan, George Henry Stankey, 2009-06-05 Adaptive management is the recommended means for continuing ecosystem management and use of natural resources, especially in the context of integrated natural resource management. Conceptually, adaptive management is simply learning from past management actions to improve future planning and management. However, adaptive management has proved difficult to achieve in practice. With a view to facilitating better practice, this new book presents lessons learned from case studies to provide managers with ready access to relevant information. Cases are drawn from a number of disciplinary fields, including management of protected areas, watersheds, and farms, rivers, forests, biodiversity, and pests. Examples from Australia, New Zealand, the USA, Canada, the UK, and Europe are presented at a variety of scales, from individual farms through regional projects to state-wide planning. While the book is designed primarily for practitioners and policy advisors in the fields of environmental and natural resource management it will also provide a valuable reference for students and researchers with interests in environmental natural resource and conservation management
