Chapter 8 History tells us that whenever there has been a technological revolution, it has been accompanied by a shift in power both nationally and internationally. The global shift of power has seldom been a peaceful affair. It often has resulted in major wars and global reorientation. This chapter discusses the possibility of the global shift of power. Currently, there are not that many countries or entities that can be considered as contenders. Of the three, Russia, European Union, and China, only one, China, is considered to have any chance of wresting power from the United States. The technological, economic, and military power of China is compared and contrasted with the United States.
