Magic, Monsters, and Make-Believe Heroes Douglas E. Cowan, 2019-02-26 Magic Monsters and Make Believe Heroes looks at fantasy film television and participative culture as evidence of our ongoing need for a mythic vision for stories larger than ourselves into which we write ourselves and through which we can become the heroes of our own story Why do we tell and retell the same stories over and over when we know they can t possibly be true Contrary to popular belief it s not because pop culture has run out of good ideas Rather it is precisely because these stories are so fantastic some resonating so deeply that we elevate them to the status of religion Illuminating everything from Buffy the Vampire Slayer to Dungeons and Dragons and from Drunken Master to Mad Max Douglas E Cowan offers a modern manifesto for why and how mythology remains a vital force today

Role-play as a Heritage Practice Michal Mochocki, 2021-03-29 Role play as a Heritage Practice is the first book to examine physically performed role enactments such as live action role play LARP tabletop role playing games TRPG and hobbyist historical reenactment RH from a combined game studies and heritage studies perspective Demonstrating that non digital role plays such as TRPG and LARP share many features with RH the book contends that all three may be considered as heritage practices Studying these role plays as three distinct genres of playful participatory and performative forms of engagement with cultural heritage Mochocki demonstrates how an exploration of the affordances of each genre can be valuable Showing that a player's engagement with history or heritage material is always multi-layered the book clarifies that the layers may be conceptualised simultaneously as types of heritage authenticity and as types of in-game immersion It is also made clear that RH TRPG and LARP share commonalities with a multitude of other media including video games historical fiction and film Existing within and contributing to the fiction and non-fiction mediasphere these role enactments are shaped by the same large-scale narratives and discourses that persons families communities and nations use to build memory and identity Role play as a Heritage Practice will be of great interest to academics and students engaged in the study of heritage memory nostalgia role playing historical games performance fans and transmedia narratology
