Economic Management And Transition Towards A Market Economy: An Asian Perspective Anthony Theng Heng Chin,Hock Guan Ng,1996-10-04 Much attention has been focused in recent years on the transformation of the economies of Eastern and Central Europe and the former Soviet Union However a growing demand for policy advice technical assistance and expertise is also coming from Asian reforming countries such as China Mongolia Vietnam Laos and Cambodia In addition business communities abroad are increasingly interested in exploring investment and marketing opportunities in these reforming countries Such developments are too important to overlook or ignore The transformation of socialist economies towards market based systems entails an unusually wide range of problems Studies of related topics are complicated by the speed of the changes and the lack of clear historical precedents Although the structural features of Asian reforming economies are in important ways different from those of the Eastern European economies all socialist economies share similar fundamental conditions on the eve of economic reform which raise a similar set of reform issues This volume brings together a rich collection of expertise and information in an attempt to shed some light on the transitional process in Asia The contributions are by no means exhaustive However they provide the reader and analyst with an excellent starting point to the problems and prospects which are specific to Asian transforming economies

Implementing Environmental Management Accounting: Status and Challenges Pall M. Rikhardsson,2005-07-28 This book brings together examples of leading thinking and international practice in the rapidly developing area of environmental management accounting EMA The authors include academics and practitioners from industry and the subjects covered range from individual company experiences with implementing EMA to national experiences regarding the adoption and diffusion of EMA practices Corporations and Sustainability Jose P D, 2017-09-08

Corporations and Sustainability The South Asian Perspective is a collection of contributions from leading academics and practitioners which provides an overview of the key challenges and opportunities related to sustainability in South Asia The last two decades have seen rapid and often dramatic changes in the institutional economic and ecological contexts in which firms operating in South Asian economies find themselves South Asia is increasingly seen both as a driver of global economic growth as well as a barrier to sustainable development The most significant driver of change in the region has been the economic liberalization attempts of national governments resulting in easier and faster flows of information labour and capital between these economies and the rest of the world Consequently global environmental and social concerns are increasingly driving governmental and corporate decision making processes for firms operating in South Asia In responding to these emerging challenges firms have begun to re evaluate and redesign their strategies structures and processes as well as incorporate sustainability principles into their strategies Corporations and Sustainability The South Asian Perspective thus delivers an important perspective for researchers as well as students of master s level courses on business and environment It is particularly useful for those trying to understand the key sustainability challenges in the South Asian context as well some of the solutions emerging in the critical areas of heavy industry and also service sectors Environmental Management Accounting Christian Herzig, Tobias Viere, Stefan Schaltegger, Roger L. Burritt, 2012-03-15

Sustainable development will not happen without substantial contributions from and leading roles of companies and business organizations This requires the provision of adequate information on corporate social and ecological impacts and performance For the last decade progress has been made in developing and adapting accounting mechanisms to these needs but significant work is still needed to tackle the problems associated with conventional accounting Until recently research on environmental management accounting EMA has concentrated on developed countries and on cost benefit analysis of implementing individual EMA tools Using a comparative case study design this book seeks to redress the balance and improve the understanding of EMA in management decision making in emerging countries focussing specifically on South East Asian companies Drawing on 12 case studies taken from a variety of industries Environmental Management Accounting Case Studies of South East Asian Companies explores the relationship between decision situations and the motivation for and barriers to the application of clusters of EMA tools as well as the implementation process itself This book will be useful to scholars interested in the environmental and sustainability management accounting research field and those considering specific approaches to EMA within emerging economies
