The Training of African Teachers in Natal from 1846-1964 Nicolas Schicketanz, 2024-06-07 The history of African teacher training in Natal is one of the most neglected and under researched aspects of educational history This book attempts to set out the administrative history of this field as a first step in stimulating the further research that is so urgently needed Print edition not for sale in Sub Saharan Africa

Special Duty Richard J. Samuels, 2019-10-15 The prewar history of the Japanese intelligence community demonstrates how having power over much but insight into little can have devastating consequences Its postwar history one of limited Japanese power despite growing insight has also been problematic for national security In Special Duty Richard J Samuels dissects the fascinating history of the intelligence community in Japan Looking at the impact of shifts in the strategic environment technological change and past failures he probes the reasons why Japan has endured such a roller coaster ride when it comes to intelligence gathering and analysis and concludes that the ups and downs of the past century combined with growing uncertainties in the regional security environment have convinced Japanese leaders of the critical importance of striking balance between power and insight Using examples of excessive hubris and debilitating bureaucratic competition before the Asia Pacific War the unavoidable dependence on US assets and popular sensitivity to security issues after World War II and the tardy adoption of image processing and cyber technologies Samuels bold book highlights the century long history of Japan s struggles to develop a fully functioning and effective intelligence capability and makes clear that Japanese leaders have begun to reinvent their nation s intelligence community

Assessing Academic Literacy in a Multilingual Society Albert Weideman, John Read, Theo du Plessis, 2020-11-02 South African universities face major challenges in meeting the needs of their students in the area of academic language and literacy The dominant medium of instruction in the universities is English and to a much lesser extent Afrikaans but only a minority of the national population are native speakers of these languages Nine other languages can be media of instruction in schools which makes the transition to tertiary education difficult enough in itself for students from these schools The focus of this book is on procedures for assessing the academic language and literacy levels and needs of students not in order to exclude students from higher education but rather to identify those who would benefit from further development of their ability in order to undertake their degree studies successfully The volume also aims to bring the innovative solutions designed by South African educators to a wider international audience

Teacher Education in Professional Learning Communities Xuefeng Huang, 2018-06-20 This book explores the unique experiences of a sister school network in Canada and China contextualized through the lens of the Reciprocal Learning Project which supports the relationship between a school network and teacher education exchange program of two countries Huang uses theoretical viewpoints from teacher learning and comparative education research to analyse and interpret what has happened in the emerging cross cultural school network The book juxtaposes teacher learning and comparative education research from Shanghai and Ontario as teachers in the two places interact and provides detailed descriptions of teacher collaboration to show how these collaborations were initiated developed and sustained as well as the impact brought about from these collaborations The book offers a unique opportunity to examine how Canadian and Chinese teachers receive and react to opportunities of cross cultural collaboration and learning Rural Education Across the World Simone White, Jayne Downey, 2021-03-22 This book brings together authors from United States South Africa United Kingdom China Canada and Australia to provide insights and case studies from across a range of contexts to explore the interplay between the notions of rurality innovation and education The book reveals a hopeful and resilient approach to innovative rural education and scholarship collectively and provides important evidence to speak against an often deficit view of rural education Three patterns are revealed namely the importance of place attentive strategies the importance of joined up alliances to maximise resources and networks and finally the need to utilize alternative methodologies and frameworks that have a starting point of difference rather than deficit for any rural initiative or approach By drawing from international examples and responding in innovative ways to rural education challenges this book provides an opportunity to share international insights into innovations interventions and partnerships that promote and support rural education in its broadest sense Leadership Approaches to Negotiate Challenges in a Changing Education Landscape Leentjie van Jaarsveld, Kobus Mentz, Charl C. Wolhuter, 2020-12-31 The argumentative point of departure of this scholarly book is the common conviction of specialists in the field of education in South Africa that the national education system is not at a satisfactory level in both the academic and the public discourse Such allegations are made and frequently stronger adjectives than non satisfactory are used Results of international test series in which South Africa has participated such as the 2015 TIMSS tests confirm the negative verdicts found in the public and scholarly discourse This book aims to argue that although the lack of performance could be attributed to a multiplicity of factors one factor that can make a difference in the achievement levels obtained by learners in schools is leadership The book demonstrates that a particular problem of both the scholarly and the public discourse on education in South Africa is an overtone of defeatism or resignation blaming all ills in the education system and educational institutions on historical legacies and or contextual factors such as socio economic deprivation in the catchment areas of schools or poor resources and infrastructure This collected work was inspired by a recently published spate of articles on top performing schools including top performing schools in rural communities in which it was demonstrated that good leadership can overcome such contextual and other challenges The book unpacks the issue of leadership in South African schools from a variety of perspectives thus contributing to the development of the scholarly discourse on Educational Leadership in South Africa The target audience of the book is scholars of Educational Leadership The research reported in the chapters draw on a wide range of methodologies including empirical survey research questionnaires and interviews critical literature surveys and the comparative method Mathematical Modelling Education and Sense-making Gloria Ann Stillman, Gabriele

Civil Rights Movement Brian C. Odom,Stephen P. Waring,2022-04-12 American Astronautical Society Eugene M Emme Astronautical Literature Award As NASA prepared for the launch of Apollo 11 in July 1969 many African American leaders protested the billions of dollars used to fund space joyrides rather than help tackle poverty inequality and discrimination at home This volume examines such tensions as well as the ways in which NASA s goal of space exploration aligned with the cause of racial equality It provides new insights into the complex relationship between the space program and the civil rights movement in the Jim Crow South and abroad Essays explore how thousands of jobs created during the space race offered new opportunities for minorities in places like Huntsville Alabama while at the same time segregation at NASA s satellite tracking station in South Africa led to that facility's closure. Other topics include black skepticism toward NASA's framing of space exploration as for the benefit of all mankind; NASA's track record in hiring women and minorities and the efforts of black activists to increase minority access to education that would lead to greater participation in the space program. The volume also addresses how to best find and preserve archival evidence of African American contributions that are missing from narratives of space exploration. NASA and the Long Civil Rights Movement offers important lessons from history as today's activists grapple with the distance between social movements like Black Lives Matter and scientific ambitions such as NASA's mission to Mars.

Poverty in America Christina G. Villegas, 2025-01-23 This wide-ranging and accessible survey of poverty in America examines every important facet of the issue from historical and socioeconomic contributors to poverty to programs, policies, and ideas crafted to reduce income inequality and poverty across the USA. Specific attention is given to shifting ideological views and approaches to poverty and poor relief, major historical actions, statutes, and practices adopted to mitigate poverty's various causes and effects, and trends related to mobility and wealth and income disparity. Important areas of coverage include the impact of depressions, recessions, economic booms, and social welfare laws on poverty. Other subjects receiving extensive coverage include the linkage between educational attainment, employment, social capital, family structure, housing security, homeownership, and geography on poverty. Readers will better understand efforts that have been made to alleviate poverty, restore a thriving middle class, and improve prospects for social and economic mobility. An array of complementary materials on poverty and economic inequality in America are also provided, including a suite of personal essays, a general bibliography, primary documents, glossary of terms, and chronology.

Cha,2018-04-24 A close look at the evolution of American political alliances in Asia and their future While the American alliance system in Asia has been fundamental to the region s security and prosperity for seven decades today it encounters challenges from the growth of China based regional organizations How was the American alliance system originally established in Asia and is it currently under threat How are competing security designs being influenced by the United States and China In Powerplay Victor Cha draws from theories about alliances unipolarity and regime complexity to examine the evolution of the U S alliance system and the reasons for its continued importance in Asia and the world Cha delves into the fears motivations and aspirations of the Truman and Eisenhower presidencies as they contemplated alliances with the Republic of China Republic of Korea and Japan at the outset of the Cold War Their choice of a bilateral hub and spokes security design for Asia was entirely different from the system created in Europe but it was essential for its time Cha argues that the alliance system s innovations in the twenty first century contribute to its resiliency in the face of China s increasing prominence and that the task for the world is not to choose between American and Chinese institutions but to maximize stability and economic progress amid Asia s increasingly complex political landscape Exploring U S bilateral relations in Asia after World War II Powerplay takes an original look at how global alliances are achieved and maintained Nixon's Nuclear Specter William Burr,Jeffrey P. Kimball,2015-06-15 In their initial effort to end the Vietnam War Richard Nixon and Henry Kissinger attempted to lever concessions from Hanoi at the negotiating table with military force and coercive diplomacy They were not seeking military victory which they did not believe was feasible Instead they backed up their diplomacy toward North Vietnam and the Soviet Union with the Madman Theory of threatening excessive force which included the specter of nuclear force They began with verbal threats then bombed North Vietnamese and Viet Cong base areas in Cambodia signaling that there was more to come As the bombing expanded they launched a previously unknown mining ruse against Haiphong stepped up their warnings to Hanoi and Moscow and initiated planning for a massive shock and awe military operation referred to within the White House inner circle as DUCK HOOK Beyond the mining of North Vietnamese ports and selective bombing in and around Hanoi the initial DUCK HOOK concept included proposals for tactical nuclear strikes against logistics targets and U S and South Vietnamese ground incursions into the North In early October 1969 however Nixon aborted planning for the long contemplated operation He had been influenced by Hanoi s defiance in the face of his dire threats and concerned about U S public reaction antiwar protests and internal administration dissent In place of DUCK HOOK Nixon and Kissinger launched a secret global nuclear alert in hopes that it would lend credibility to their prior warnings and perhaps even persuade Moscow to put pressure on Hanoi It was to be a special reminder of how far President Nixon might go The risky gambit failed to move the Soviets but it marked a turning point in the administration s strategy for exiting Vietnam Nixon and Kissinger became increasingly resigned to a long route policy of providing Saigon with a decent chance of survival for a decent interval after a negotiated settlement and U S forces left Indochina Burr and Kimball draw upon extensive research in participant interviews and declassified documents to unravel this intricate story of the October 1969 nuclear alert They place it in the context of nuclear threat making and coercive diplomacy since 1945 the culture of the Bomb intra governmental dissent domestic political pressures the international nuclear taboo and Vietnamese and Soviet actions and policies It is a history that holds important lessons for the present and future about the risks and uncertainties of nuclear threat making Sick Schools David V.
