Globalization Difference And Human Security:

Globalization, Difference, and Human Security Mustapha Kamal Pasha, 2013-10-23 Globalization Difference and Human Security seeks to advance critical human security studies by re framing the concept of human security in terms of the thematic of difference Drawing together a wide range of contributors the volume is framed among others around the following key questions What are the silences and erasures of advancing a critical human security alternative without making recognition of difference its central plank How do we rethink the complex interplay of human security and difference in distinct and varied spatial and cultural settings produced by global forces What is the nexus between human security and the broader field of global development What new challenges to Human Security and International Relations are produced with the rise of the post liberal or post secular subject In what ways releasing human security from identification with the territorial state helps reconceptualize culture How does Human Security serve as a subspecies of modern humanitarian thought or the latter reinforce imperial imaginaries and the structures of order and morality Is the pursuit of indigenous rights fundamentally counterpoised to the pursuit of human security What difference it might make to take the doings and beings of communities of subsistence rather than basic needs wealth seeking individuals as a point of departure in critical human security studies How does reconstruction bind post war and post disaster states and societies into the global capitalist democratic political structure

Religion, Identity and Human Security Giorgio Shani, 2014-04-03 Religion Identity and Human Security seeks to demonstrate that a major source of human insecurity comes from the failure of states around the world to recognize the increasing cultural diversity of their populations which has resulted from globalization Shani begins by setting out the theoretical foundations dealing with the transformative effects of globalization on identity violence and security The second part of the volume then draws on different cases of sites of human insecurity around the globe to develop these ideas examining themes such as securitization of religious symbols retreat from multiculturalism rise of exclusivist ethno religious identities post 9 11 state religion colonization and the racialization of migration Highlighting that religion can be a source of both human security and insecurity in a globalizing world Shani offers a critical human security paradigm that seeks to de secularize the individual by recognizing the culturally contested and embedded nature of human identities The work argues that religion serves an important role in re embedding individuals deracinated from their communities by neo liberal globalization and will be of interest to students of International Relations Security Studies and Religion and Politics

Rethinking the Security-Development Nexus Sasha Jespersen, 2016-12-01 This book critically examines the security development nexus through an analysis of organised crime responses in post conflict states As the trend has evolved the security development nexus has received significant attention from policymakers as a new means to address security threats Integrating the traditionally separate areas of security and development the nexus has been promoted as a new strategy to achieve a comprehensive people centred approach Despite the enthusiasm behind the security development nexus it has received significant criticism This book investigates four tensions that influence the integration of security and development to understand why it has failed to live up to expectations The book compares two case studies of internationally driven initiatives to address organised crime as part of post conflict reconstruction in Sierra Leone and Bosnia Examination of the tensions reveals that actors addressing organised crime have attempted to move away from a security approach resulting in incipient integration between security and development but barriers remain Rather than discarding the nexus this book explores its unfulfilled potential This book will be of much interest to students of war and conflict studies development studies criminology security studies and IR in general
