Islam,2010-04-15 1 1 Background of the Study Ef ciency in Cross Cultural International Business Management Ef cient business management is crucial in achieving corporate national or int national multinational goals such as higher value comprehensiveness corporate governance etc Ef cient business management can be achieved by resolving agency problems existing among different stakeholders in corporations. In international business, agency problems may exist between managers, owners, staff, and other stakeholders who come from different cultures. Therefore, there is a need in designing efficient management of international business by understanding the factors of convergence and factors which cause differences in the interests and cultures of different stakeholders. International business refers to all commercial transactions between two or more nations. Because it comprises a large and growing portion of current world business practice, international business has received considerable attention in academic research. Daniels and Radebaugh (1998) state that international business differs in important ways from business conducted within national borders and poses additional challenges to managers and investors in foreign countries. Mahoney et al. (1998) state that effective management is increasingly recognized as a key determinant of success or failure, arguing that the success of international business in multinational companies depends most significantly on the quality of management systems. Stroh and Caligiuri (1998) state that as international business involves people from different cultures, every business function including managing a workforce, marketing, output, and dealing with regulators has the potential to involve cross-cultural problems. Zineldin (2007).
