responses to dramatic technological change are influenced by the political institutions of the Global South more than any other factor In addressing vocational education programs which are highly relevant in understanding how labor unrest is governed in developing settings she makes two important contributions Firstly she offers a new theoretical framework to understand labor mobilization and de mobilization patterns rethinking vocational education as a key transmission belt for manufacturing labor consent Secondly she provides a systematic comparison of skill formation schemes and their implications on labor mobilization in federal and unitary systems With a focus on Argentina and Turkey two case studies are provided in which technology has provoked differing levels of strikes walkouts and extended protest Piero Manzoni's
