Learning to Teach Geography in the Secondary School Mary Biddulph, David Lambert, David Balderstone, 2015-05-20 Learning to Teach

Geography in the Secondary School has become the widely recommended textbook for student and new teachers of geography It helps you acquire a deeper understanding of the role purpose and potential of geography within the secondary curriculum and provides the practical skills needed to design teach and evaluate stimulating and challenging lessons It is grounded in the notion of social justice and the idea that all students are entitled to a high quality geography education The very practical dimension provides you with support structures through which you can begin to develop your own philosophy of teaching and debate key questions about the nature and purpose of the subject in school Fully revised and updated in light of extensive changes to the curriculum as well as to initial teacher education the new edition considers the current debates around what we mean by geographical knowledge and what is involved in studying at Masters level Key chapters explore the fundamentals of teaching and learning geography Why we teach and what to teach Understanding and planning the curriculum Effective pedagogy Assessment Developing and using resources Fieldwork and outdoor learning Values in school geography Professional development Intended as a core textbook and written with university and school based initial teacher education in mind Learning to Teach Geography in the Secondary school is essential reading for all those who aspire to become effective reflective teachers Praise for previous editions of Learning to Teach Geography in the Secondary School This is a practical and visionary book as well as being superbly optimistic It has as much to offer the experienced teacher as the novice and could be used to reinvigorate geography departments everywhere Practical activities and ideas are set within a carefully worked out authoritative conceptual framework The Times Educational Supplement This is a modern powerful relevant and comprehensive work a standard reference for many beginning teachers on geography initial teacher training courses Educational Review Assessment for Learning and Teaching in Secondary Schools Martin Fautley, Jonathan Savage, 2008-01-04 Assessment is central to teaching and learning yet is one of the most difficult areas of professional practice This book guides trainee secondary teachers through its complexities and provides practical strategies exemplified by case studies It examines issues such as diagnosing problems sharing learning objectives assessment as a tool for motivation effective planning using evidence to adapt teaching peer and self assessment learning through dialogue and understanding formative assessment Targeted specifically at trainees this text links explicitly to the new QTS Standards and its tasks provide opportunities for reflection and for practising the range of skills involved in assessing pupils Learning to Teach Science in the Secondary School Jenny Frost, Tony Turner, 2005 The second edition of this popular student textbook presents an up to date and comprehensive introduction to the process and practice of teaching and learning science It takes into account changes in science education since the first edition was published including more recent curriculum reform This new edition builds upon the success of its predecessor introducing new material on the use of ICT in science teaching as well as providing sound informative and useful discussion on managing your professional development knowledge concepts and principles of science planning for learning and teaching in science practical teaching strategies selecting and using resources assessment and examinations and the broader science curriculum Midwest Meeting the Needs of Your Most Able Pupils: MFL Gretchen Ingram, 2008-03-20 Meeting the Needs of Your Most Able Pupils in Modern Foreign Languages covers the areas that all MFL teachers need to be aware of Recent government legislation national initiatives and departmental policy The book provides subject specific guidance illustrated with case studies on the following areas support for more able students with learning difficulties ADHD dyslexia sensory impairment recognizing high potential or ability multiple intelligences and learning styles classroom provision planning differentiation extension and enrichment teacher questioning skills homework recording and assessment beyond the classroom visits residential competitions summer schools masterclasses links with universities businesses and other organizations Including access to online materials this book is essential reading for secondary teachers subject heads of departments Gifted and Talented co ordinators SENCos and LA advisers Improving School Attendance Eric Blyth, Judith Milner, 2012-11-12 Although pupil disaffection has been a major concern to professionals policy makers and researchers for quite some time recent professional books in the area tend to focus on behaviour and exclusion from schools Despite considerable government funding in both LEA s and schools to promote new measures to improve school attendance non attendance at school is a relatively neglected topic as far as serious researched based literature is concerned This book will be the first in several years concerned with non attendance Previously unpublished research material in the book will provide a multi disciplinary evaluation of practice at LEA whole school and individual levels

The Toxic Classroom Richard Steward,2020-06-09 The Toxic Classroom offers a wide ranging look at education today and explores in detail the pressures children experience as a result of constant change digital technology and political interference Beginning with what it is like to be a child in the classroom the book goes on to provide a detailed analysis of the curriculum assessment and accountability school structures educating for global citizenship and the plethora of social issues schools are now expected to solve Written from the perspective of a successful headteacher with over 30 years teaching experience the book considers what needs to be done to put things right and outlines a more equitable and effective school system Each chapter outlines the steps schools can implement immediately and the longer term policy changes that are needed de toxify the classroom and facilitate a genuine love of learning Offering a challenging yet compelling argument for putting education back into the hands of teachers this book will be of great interest both to the general reader and to those working within education such as teachers and professionals who wish to improve the ways in which children learn and develop

EBOOK: Raising Boys' Achievement in Secondary Schools Mike Younger,Molly Warrington,Ros McLellan,2005-11-16 Boys achievement has attracted great attention in recent years in many countries This comprehensive book based on sound research in schools provides practical insights into how the achievement of boysand girls can be raised It reminds us that it is not all boys or no girlswho underachieve It demonstrates the respective roles of teaching andlearning school culture and social factors No easy answers butexcellent ideas backed by evidence from authoritative thoroughresearchers with a firm basis in schools Judy Sebba Professor of Education University of Sussex Teachers will find this book invaluable It is based on quality researchwhich actually evaluates the impact of the various strategies suggestedfor raising boys achievement What is more in contrast to many of themore quick fix works in this field the authors discussion and analysisis measured and nuanced and supported by an in depth understandingof the wealth of theory and research around gender and achievement It provides a welcome and weighty contribution to an evercontroversial debate Becky Francis London Metropolitan University In this important book the authors evaluate different approaches and advocate practical evidence based strategies which have the potential to promote boys as well as girls achievements The approaches are discussed within the context of inclusivity acknowledging the diverse needs and interests of different boys and the invisibility and continuing disadvantage of some girls The book begins and ends with reflections from students of their own school experiences and makes practical recommendations for the future This book draws upon empirical research and work initiated as part of the DfES project on Raising Boys Achievement It brings together theoretical and practical issues and reflects upon the construction of the debate about boys apparent under achievement from the perspectives of girls as well as boys The authors critically explore notions of under achievement and value added and consider how useful the concept of the gender gap is in advancing the debates Raising Boys Achievement in Secondary Schools is key reading for undergraduate and postgraduate Education students PGCE students headteachers senior managers within schools and local education authorities and policy makers
