Foot and mouth disease 2007 Great Britain: Department for Environment, Food and Rural Affairs,Iain Anderson,2008-03-11 The 2001 outbreak of Foot and Mouth was set out in a report published in 2002 providing an analysis of what happened with recommendations HCP 888 session 2001 02 ISBN 9780102976243 Another FMD outbreak occurred in the Summer of 2007 and the Government again asked Dr Iain Anderson to conduct a review and find out if the lessons of 2001 had been learned and whether new recommendations are needed This report is built around the findings of 2001 with a particular look at the Pirbright facility the source of the virus incriminated in this recent outbreak Dr Anderson s states that he found much to applaud in the handling of the 2007 outbreak along with some deficiencies but states the positive outweighs the negative The report commends the strong leadership of the Prime Minister as well as the contingency planning and better integration of scientific advice and the capabilities at the centre of disease control strategies External communication was also greatly improved Less encouraging were the inadequate infrastructure and governance of the Pirbright facility where the Institute for Animal Health is located and the poor regulatory regime in place to licence work with dangerous animal pathogens Defra's information systems too were found wanting The report also recommends that the Institute of Animal Health should become the new National Institute of Infectious Diseases supported by multiple sources of funding from government and elsewhere Also recommended is the creation of an Independent Advisory Committee on Animal and Emerging Infectious Diseases combining a high level group of experts along with other stakeholders with a mission to provide independent advice to government and link closely with the Government's and departmental Chief Scientific Advisors and include the Chief Veterinary Office and Chief Medical Officer amongst its members The publication is divided into five sections Section 1 Foreword Section 2 Summary and recommendations Section 3 Lessons learned the lessons are Lesson 1 Maintain vigilance Lesson 2 Be prepared Lesson 3 React with speed and certainty Lesson 4 Explain policies plans and practices Lesson 5 Respect local knowledge Lesson 6 Apply risk assessment and cost benefit analysis Lesson 7 Use data and information management systems Lesson 8 Have a legislative framework Lesson 9 Base policy decisions on the best available science Section 4 Pirbright Section 5 Appendices Nanotechnology R E Hester, R M Harrison, 2007-10-31

Nanotechnology is a much talked about and rapidly expanding area of science which is sometimes little understood It looks set to make a significant impact on human life and with numerous commercial developments emerging will become a major industry over the coming years Nanotechnology can be broadly described as developing or exploiting products at nanometre dimensions i e as having one dimension less than 100 nanometres Such materials have a larger surface area to volume ratio than conventional materials which provides them with an increased level of reactivity and consequently toxicity per unit mass This book sets the subject into context by first of all describing the current range of products containing nano materials and then looking at the consequences for the environment and human health relating to the introduction of nanoparticles and nano tubes Nanotechnology Consequences for Human Health and the Environment discusses some of the more controversial issues associated with the field including nanoparticles in the environment occupational exposure toxicological properties human health issues and safety This authoritative and comprehensive book will be of interest to both scientists and technologists but also to regulators and government This title is also available in hardback Domino Effects in the Process Industries Valerio Cozzani, Giacomo Antonioni, Nima Khakzad, Faisal Khan, Jerome Taveau, Genserik Reniers, 2013-07-08 The complexity of domino scenarios represented a considerable obstacle to the quantitative assessment of risk posed by escalation events In the present chapter the state of the art concerning quantitative approaches proposed for the assessment of risk caused by domino accidents is summarized A procedure for the quantitative risk assessment of domino accidents suitable for the calculation of individual and societal risk indexes is outlined Alternative approaches proposed for the quantitative assessment of domino effects based on Bayesian techniques and Monte Carlo simulations are also described
