Section A

Answer all the questions in this section. All questions carry 10 marks.

Hydrology and fluvial geomorphology

1 Table 1 gives some data for two river catchments located in similar temperate climates.

(a) What percentage of average annual rainfall occurs as runoff in:

(i) River A: [1]

(ii) River B? [1]

River A is 60%

River B is 70%

(b) What is the difference between the maximum and minimum recorded flows in:

(i) River A: [1]

(ii) River B? [1]

River A is 150.1 cumecs

River B is 35.8 cumecs

(c) Using the evidence in Table 1, explain which of the rivers you think is more likely to produce floods in response to a storm event. [4]

The flashier regime is that of River A as the range of flows is so much higher than that of River B. Also the basin area is slightly smaller which could produce a quicker passage of water to the main channel although the average rainfall is given as the same. The main reason, however, is due to the different geologies. Sandstone and shale are less permeable than limestone, hence giving rise to more overland flow, particularly during intense rainfall (i.e. 60% of all ppt). Limestone allows a greater amount of percolation, thus more water reaches the river via baseflow (only 70 % as runoff) giving a more regular flow throughout the year, and a lower difference between minimum and maximum flows.

Attack Evangelism Greg Koehn, 2014-04-01 This book was originally written as a training manual for evangelism but then developed into a study of our salvation The presentation of the gospel is simple so that even a child can understand it and believe it But it is not enough to give a simple presentation in order for us to defend the faith in this postmodern world we need to understand the gospel and its implications for our world Our Christian imperative is to make disciples of the people groups of the world beginning with where we are and then moving out to the uttermost parts of the world Culture will only change when people change and they will change only when that change occurs from the inside out To believe on the Lord Jesus Christ is to be born again a person changed by the Spirit of God from the inside out The Church is God's ordained institution on earth but the Church spends too much time on the inside the time has come to get off our seat onto our feet and into the street In view of our postmodern world passive evangelism is not the answer it is time to attack
