

Should School Days Be Longer?

Imagine your day begins at noon and ends at noon. This would extend the day by an hour and a half. As a result, many schools are thinking about extending the school day because the schools are seeing many positive results with the longer day. In the article, "Should the School Day Be Longer?" by Todd Olson, according to the research, it is evident the school day should be longer, and it will benefit the students tremendously.

The school day needs to be extended. One example of why this should be is school longer is because American students are behind other countries in almost all core subjects. The author states, "For 10th American students score in 41st in reading, 44th in science, and 47th in math out of 65 countries" (Olson, 10).

We offered more activities. According to the author, "Extended day schools offer many of these activities during school hours [...] For instance, kids learn karate and musical theater." (10). In addition, students will have the chance to explore more activities they may not have the opportunity to participate outside of school possibly due to financial issues, busy schedules and responsibilities. Schools will be able to offer more activities that can speak as loud as a person. In the end, students should see the school longer.

In the article, "Should the School Day Be Longer?" by Todd Olson, research proves students benefit from going to school longer. Overall, students will be able to participate in more activities, they will see an improvement in their grades, and their socialization skills will improve. Extending the school day will benefit in a variety of positive ways.
