Narratives of Matthew 1-2 Alistair N. Shaw, 2019-10-10 The first Gospel has traditionally been considered a very Jewish work. Recent scholarship has suggested some Hellenistic influence. The issue is explored in this work with attention focused on the dream narratives of the first two chapters. An investigation is carried out using a new methodology. The memory techniques used in an oral or semi-literate society are explored. A search is made for such techniques in Matthew, and these are then compared with similar devices in a wide range of literature: Old Testament, contemporary Jewish, Greek, and Roman. The intention is that literary practice should help to clarify the cultural setting in which Matthew functions. This is a work which will interest New Testament scholars with a focus on Gospel studies and oral transmission. It may also appeal to some classical scholars or those with a specialized interest in Josephus. Jewish Comics and Graphic Narratives Matt Reingold, 2022-11-17 The most up-to-date critical guide mapping the history, impact, key critical issues, and seminal texts of the genre. Jewish Comics and Graphic Narratives interrogates what makes a work a Jewish graphic narrative and explores the form's diverse facets to orient readers to the richness and complexity of Jewish graphic storytelling. Resolving the Tension of Jesus's Mission in Matthew's Ancient Biography Jerry D. Breen, 2024-10-03 Jerry D Breen argues that reading Matthew and all the Gospels as ancient biography is the necessary next step for Gospel studies In particular Breen contends that more specific comparisons should be made between the Gospels and ancient literature Breen stresses that this reading invites narrative critics to place more emphasis on examining the use of sources and the importance of intertextual and historical information that the author introduces to the text Breen places emphasis on the relationship between Jews and non Jews in ancient Galilee and Palestine and challenges the long supported theory that Jesus did not minister to non Jews beyond two or three exceptions

Demonstrating that Jesus is inclusive of everyone who comes to him even though he was sent primarily to the Jews Breen argues that the portrait which Matthew creates is one of a Jewish Messiah who is on a mission to restore Israel so that the restored people of God can bless the nations Concluding that rather than two conflicting missions the audience of the gospel is encouraged to view the healing of non Jews during Jesus's ministry as further proof that the Jewish Messiah is bringing restoration to Israel
