Jurmain, 2003-07 Evolutionary Thinking Across Disciplines Agathe du Crest, Martina Valković, André Ariew, Hugh Desmond, Philippe Huneman, Thomas A. C. Reydon, 2023-06-26 This volume aims to clarify the epistemic potential of applying evolutionary thinking outside biology and provides a survey of the current state of the art in research on relevant topics in the life sciences the philosophy of science and the various areas of evolutionary research outside the life sciences By bringing together chapters by evolutionary biologists systematic biologists philosophers of biology philosophers of social science complex systems modelers psychologists anthropologists economists linguists historians and educators the volume examines evolutionary thinking within and outside the life sciences from a multidisciplinary perspective While the chapters written by biologists and philosophers of science address theoretical aspects of the guiding questions and aims of the volume the chapters written by researchers from the other areas approach them from the perspective of applying evolutionary thinking to non biological phenomena Taken together the chapters in this volume do not only show how evolutionary thinking can be fruitfully applied in various areas of investigation but also highlight numerous open problems unanswered questions and issues on which more clarity is needed As such the volume can serve as a starting point for future research on the application of evolutionary thinking across disciplines Evolutionary Theory in the Social Sciences: Evolution and revolution William M. Imagining the Darwinian Revolution Ian Hesketh, 2022-06-14 This volume considers the relationship between the development of evolution and its historical representations by focusing on the so called Darwinian Revolution The very idea of the Darwinian Revolution is a historical construct devised to help explain the changing scientific and cultural landscape that was ushered in by Charles Darwin s singular contribution to natural science And yet since at least the 1980s science historians have moved away from traditional great man narratives to focus on the collective role that previously neglected figures have played in formative debates of evolutionary theory Darwin they argue was not the driving force behind the popularization of evolution in the nineteenth century This volume moves the conversation forward by bringing Darwin back into the frame recognizing that while he was not the only important evolutionist his name and image came to signify evolution itself both in the popular imagination as well as in the work and writings of other evolutionists Together contributors explore how the history of evolution has been interpreted deployed and exploited to fashion the science behind our changing understandings of evolution from the nineteenth century to the present
