The Life of Florence Nightingale v. 2 Sir Edward Tyas Cook, 1914 The Life of Florence Nightingale Sir Edward Tyas Cook, 1914 The Life of Florence Nightingale: 1862-1910 Sir Edward Tyas Cook, 1913 Collected Software Engineering Papers, 1983 The Molecular Vision of Life Lily E. Kay, 1993 This fascinating study examines the rise of American molecular biology to disciplinary dominance focusing on the period between 1930 and the elucidation of DNA structure in the mid 1950s Research undertaken during this period with its focus on genetic structure and function endowed scientists with then unprecedented power over life By viewing the new biology as both a scientific and cultural enterprise Lily E Kay shows that the growth of molecular biology was a result of systematic efforts by key scientists and their sponsors to direct the development of biological research toward a shared vision of science and society She analyzes the motivations and mechanisms empowering this vision by focusing on two key institutions Caltech and its sponsor the Rockefeller Foundation Her study explores a number of vital sometimes controversial topics among them the role of private power centers in shaping scientific agenda and the political dimensions of pure research It also advances a sobering argument the cognitive and social groundwork for genetic engineering and human genome projects was laid by the American architects of molecular biology during these early decades of the project This book will be of interest to molecular biologists historians sociologists and the general reader alike Paper, 1990 The Politics of Precaution Robert L. Paarlberg, 2001-09-17 Genetically modified GM food crops have inspired increasing controversy over the past decade By the mid 1990s they were widely grown in the U S Canada and Argentina but precautionary regulations continue to limit their use elsewhere The restrictive policies of Europe and Japan toward GM crops have been much discussed Less attention has been paid to the policies affecting the adoption of GM crops in the developing world where their potential impact on the availability and quality of food is even greater In this book Robert Paarlberg looks at the policy choices regarding GM food made by four important developing countries Kenya Brazil India and China Of these so far only China has approved the planting of GM crops Paarlberg identifies five policy areas in which governments of developing countries can either support or discourage GM crops intellectual property rights biosafety trade food safety and public research and investment He notes that highly cautious biosafety policies have so far been the key reason that Kenya Brazil and India have hesitated to plant GM crops These cautious policies have been strongly reinforced by international market forces and international diplomatic and NGO pressures China has been less cautious toward GM crops in part because there is less opportunity in China for international organizations or independent critics of GM crops to challenge official policy Annual Report of the New York State College of Agriculture and Life Sciences at Cornell University & the Cornell University Agricultural Experiment Station New York State College of Agriculture, 1900 The Gene Wars Robert M. Cook-Deegan, 1994 Cook Deegan a former director of the Biomedical Ethics Advisory Committee of the US Congress and an advisor to the National Center for Human Genome

Research gives a firsthand account of the struggle to launch the Human Genome Project Using primary documents and interviews Cook Deegan explains scientific details chronicles the origins of the project covers the conflicts and partnerships between the organizations involved and examines ethical legal and social issues of DNA research Includes bandw photos Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR Liberty and Sexuality David J.
