Our Last Mission Dawn Trimble Bunyak, 2005-08-01 In this remarkable tale of courage historian Dawn Trimble Bunyak recounts the experiences of her uncle Lawrence Pifer a technical sergeant who survived fourteen months of internment as a prisoner of war in World War II Nazi Germany A radio operator and ball turret gunner on the American B 17 bomber Slightly Dangerous Pifer was shot down during a raid on March 4 1944 As he parachuted from the plummeting plane Pifer witnessed the deaths of two of his fellow crewmembers Captured by Nazi soldiers and taken to a series of German Stalag Luft camps Pifer and other servicemen mostly in their teens and twenties endured torture starvation disease and forced marches When British forces liberated Pifer's group he pushed his POW experiences deep into the recesses of his mind not to recall them in detail for decades Years later a POW group at a Veterans Administration hospital helped Pifer realize that he was ready to tell his story

After forty hours of interviews with Pifer Dawn Trimble Bunyak retells the enthralling story of an average enlisted man's struggle to survive in the face of hopelessness with only his strong faith and pride in country to sustain him. In his foreword, historian Arnold Krammer shows how popular views of the prisoner of war experience have changed dramatically over time, yet how rare are such first person accounts as Pifer's. Enhanced by numerous photographs and maps and an appendix of prisoners' poetry, Our Last Mission is one of only a few oral histories that details the daily experiences of one of the 94,000 American POWs in Europe during World War II.

The Song of Sarah Charlene Pillow Little, 2011-07-01 For author Charlene Pillow Little, the mirror on the wall reflected a sobering message. As the signs of aging were obviously growing at a much higher rate than her 401 k, she must act quickly but not for a face lift. It was time for Sarah to set the record straight and go all the way back to the fifties to the time when she too was wrinkle free, young and restless. These memoirs are her own unmistakable voice talking about the good, the bad, and the not so pretty of her journey through life. The Song of Sarah presents a touching personal story from 1937 to 2010, beginning with her birth in the thirties when the family physician arrives an hour late. Her feisty grandmother assumes the role of emergency MD. Growing up petite and scrawny in the fifties and always on the lookout for ways to change her name to the one she feels is truly hers, she emerges from each hurdle stronger in character, body, and mind. Though her childhood years were lived in an environment considered poverty stricken, the hardships and circumstances served to define more clearly and purposefully certain ambitions and values. Told with candor and humor, her story is more about the human spirit that wills itself not only to survive but triumph over the long haul. A spirit that doesn't accept the notion that life is over after the fiftieth wedding anniversary.

Madd Inlet Tim Swink, 2025-02-18 Tim Swink is a very good storyteller and that's rare. Chuck Adams, former Executive Editor at Algonquin Books. In 1969, during the crux of the Vietnam war, Jack Tagger is on the run. As the war in Southeast Asia rages on, he has made the moral decision to resist the draft. In his effort to avoid the authorities and the war, he seeks refuge on a desolate coastal barrier island where unbeknownst to him, while avoiding one war, he finds himself unwittingly caught in the middle of another deadly land war between two very powerful men at Sunset Beach, North Carolina. When a native American shaman summons the spirit of an innocent victim of that conflict, Jack is again forced to make a potentially lethal choice between good and evil, and he learns that like Madd Inlet, what runs smooth and meandering on top does not always belie what runs just beneath the surface. Madd Inlet is perfect for fans of Nicholas Sparks, Every Breath, and Delia Owens' Where the Crawdads Sing.
