Kzn Economics Paper 1 Trial:

African Economic Development Christopher Cramer, John Sender, Arkebe Oqubay, 2020 This book challenges conventional wisdoms about economic performance and possible policies for economic development in African countries Its starting point is the striking variation in African economic performance Unevenness and inequalities form a central fact of African economic experiences The authors highlight not only differences between countries but also variations within countries differences often organized around distinctions of gender class and ethnic identity For example neo natal mortality and school dropout have been reduced particularly for some classes of women in some areas of Africa Horticultural and agribusiness exports have grown far more rapidly in some countries than in others These variations and many others point to opportunities for changing performance reducing inequalities learning from other policy experiences and escaping the ties of structure and the legacies of a colonial past The book rejects teleological illusions and Eurocentric prejudice but it does pay close attention to the results of policy in more industrialized parts of the world Seeing the contradictions of capitalism for what they are fundamental and enduring may help policy officials protect themselves against the misleading idea that development can be expected to be a smooth linear process or that it would be were certain impediments suddenly removed The authors criticize a wide range of orthodox and heterodox economists especially for their cavalier attitude to evidence Drawing on their own decades of research and policy experience they combine careful use of available evidence from a range of African countries with political economy insights mainly derived from Kalecki Kaldor and Hirschman to make the policy case for specific types of public sector investment is a unique and comprehensive resource for genetists clinicians and public health professionals interested in the social ethical economic and legal matters associated with medical genetics in the developing world HIV/AIDS, Economics and Governance in South Africa ,2002 Economics and HIV Deborah Johnston,2013-05-29 This book explains how and why economics has been applied to a terrible pandemic using a range of examples mostly drawn from the region most affected sub Saharan Africa Part I shows that microeconomic approaches have found fertile ground in a public health approach that blames individual choices for HIV transmission Despite their attractiveness however these approaches fail to explain contemporary patterns of HIV prevalence illustrating the importance of factors that are excluded from the standard micro economic approach Part II of the book looks at our problems in understanding the economic impact of AIDS and explains why economists cannot agree if epidemic disease is a good or bad thing for economic development In both sections of the book the potential for alternative approaches is shown and the book ends by arguing that a political economy approach can bring meaningful insights to our understanding of the spread and impact of HIV AIDS The Economic Impact of Prime-age Adult Mortality on Malawian Agricultural Households in the Era of HIV/AIDS Edward Pepukayi Mazhangara,2007 OECD Health Policy Studies Making Mental Health Count The Social and Economic Costs of Neglecting Mental Health Care Hewlett Emily,Moran Valerie,2014-07-08 This book addresses the high cost of mental illness the organisation of care changes and future directions for the mental health workforce indicators for mental health care and quality and tools for better governance of the system Poverty and Shared Prosperity 2016 World Bank Group,2016-10-12 Poverty and Shared Prosperity 2016 is the first of an annual flagship report that provides a global audience comprising development practitioners policy makers researchers advocates and citizens in general with the latest and most accurate estimates on trends in global poverty and shared prosperity This edition documents trends in inequality and identifies recent country experiences that have been successful in reducing inequalities provides key lessons from those experiences and synthesizes the rigorous evidence on public policies that can shift inequality in a way that bolsters poverty reduction and shared prosperity in a sustainable manner Specifically the report addresses the following questions What is the latest evidence on the levels and evolution of extreme poverty and shared prosperity Which countries and regions have been more successful in terms of progress toward the twin goals and which are lagging behind What does the global context of lower economic growth mean for achieving the twin goals How can inequality reduction contribute to achieving the twin goals What does the evidence show concerning global and between and within country inequality trends Which interventions and countries have used the most innovative approaches to achieving the twin goals through reductions in inequality The report makes four main contributions First it presents the most recent numbers on poverty shared prosperity and inequality Second it stresses the importance of inequality reduction in ending poverty and boosting shared prosperity by 2030 in a context of weaker growth Third it highlights the diversity of within country inequality reduction experiences and synthesizes experiences of successful countries and policies addressing the roots of inequality without compromising economic growth In doing so the report shatters some myths and sharpens our knowledge of what works in reducing inequalities Finally it advocates for the need to expand and improve data collection for example data availability comparability and quality and rigorous evidence on inequality impacts in order to deliver high quality poverty and shared prosperity monitoring

The Socioeconomic Dimensions of HIV/AIDS in Africa David E. Sahn, 2018-07-05 Since the 1980s HIV AIDS has occupied a singular position because of the rapidly emergent threat and devastation the disease has caused particularly in sub Saharan Africa New infections continue to create a formidable challenge to households communities and health systems last year alone 2.7 million new infections occurred globally Sub Saharan Africa remains the epicenter of the suffering with around two thirds of infected individuals worldwide found there and a disproportionate number of deaths and new infections For years there have been widespread and concerted efforts to prevent the spread of HIV AIDS identify a cure and understand and mitigate the deleterious social and economic ramifications of the disease Despite these efforts and some apparent successes there is still a long way to go in terms of altering behaviors in order to realize the objective of dramatic reductions in the spread of HIV AIDS in Africa The authors in this volume examine the HIV AIDS crisis in Africa which persists despite major strides in averting deaths due to antiretroviral therapy They tell an important story of the distinct nature of the disease and its socioeconomic implications

People Power in an Era of Global Crisis Barry K. Gills, Kevin Gray, 2013-10-31

A quarter of a century has now passed since the historic popular uprising that led to the overthrow of the Ferdinand Marcos dictatorship in the Philippines The mass movement known as the People Power Revolution was not only pivotal to the democratic transition within the Philippines but it also became an inspiration for subsequent mass movements leading to further democratic transitions throughout the Third World and in the former Communist bloc in Eastern Europe and the Soviet Union However the neoliberal economic policies subsequently pursued by newly democratic governments throughout the Third World led all but the most celebratory observers to note the constrained and limited nature of these formal political transitions This volume poses the question of the extent to which people power has been able to play an active role resisting neoliberalism and deepen substantive democracy and social justice Through a series of case studies of the regions and individual countries of Asia Africa Latin America and Eastern Europe the contributions in the volume provide a new set of original and in depth critical assessments of the nature of the longer term impact of the democratic transitions commencing in the 1980s and continuing until the present and questioning their impact and potential influence on human dignity freedom justice and self determination and thus opening new avenues of enquiry into the future of democracy This book was originally published as a special issue of Third World Quarterly
