Magic in the Ancient Eastern Mediterranean Nina Nikki,Kirsi M.J. Valkama,2020-12-14 Magic in the Ancient Eastern Mediterranean Cognitive Historical and Material Perspectives brings together articles with the shared conviction that the category of magic remains useful in religious studies and provides new insights to biblical and related texts and artifacts Historically magic has been considered in both scholarly and popular discourse to be questionable obscure and potentially subversive 19th century scholars of religion viewed magical beliefs and practices as primitive and inferior compared to Judeo Christian forms of worship which were considered true religion More recently the category has been defended especially by scholars of the cognitive science of religion who find it useful for delineating a set of beliefs and practices fundamental to all forms of religion The volume joins current scholarship in refraining from using the concept as an othering device and in arguing that it can still serve as a helpful analytical tool In addition to analyzing the discourse on magic in both ancient literature and modern scholarship the articles provide individual examples of how literary and material culture attest to the existence of magical beliefs and practices in sources from the Ancient Near East to the Byzantine Period The book is divided into three parts The contributions in the first part approach magic from the theoretical perspective of cognitive studies ritual studies and cultural evolution while the rest of the book focuses on how magic and magicians are understood in ancient sources The second part discusses a specific set of textual material dealing with blessings and curses The third part of the volume discusses the world of various destructive celestial beings from which one and one s loved ones had to be defended as well as the multitude of protective beings such as angels Superstition and Magic in Early Modern Europe: A Reader Helen L. Parish,2014-11-20 Superstition and Magic in Early Modern Europe brings together a rich selection of essays which represent the most important historical research on religion magic and superstition in early modern Europe Each essay makes a significant contribution to the history of magic and religion in its own right while together they demonstrate how debates over the topic have evolved over time providing invaluable intellectual historical and socio political context for readers approaching the subject for the first time The essays are organised around five key themes and areas of controversy Part One tackles superstition Part Two the tension between miracles and magic Part Three ghosts and apparitions Part Four witchcraft and witch trials and Part Five the gradual disintegration of the magical universe in the face of scientific religious and practical opposition Each part is prefaced by an introduction that provides an outline of the historiography and engages with recent scholarship and debate setting the context for the essays that follow and providing a foundation for further study

This collection is an invaluable toolkit for students of early modern Europe providing both a focused overview and a springboard for broader thinking about the underlying continuities and discontinuities that make the study of magic and superstition a perennially fascinating topic The Old and the new magic Henry Ridgely Evans,1906 Molotov's Magic Lantern Rachel Polonsky,2011-01-11 When the British journalist Rachel Polonsky moves to Moscow she discovers an apartment on Romanov Street that was once home to the Soviet elite One of the most infamous neighbors was the ruthless apparatchik Vyacheslav Molotov a henchman for Stalin who was a participant in the collectivizations and the Great Purge and also an ardent bibliophile In what was formerly Molotov s apartment Polonsky uncovers an extensive library and an old magic lantern two things that lead her on an extraordinary journey throughout Russia and ultimately renew her vision of the country and its people In Molotov s Magic Lantern Polonsky visits the haunted cities and vivid landscapes of the books from Molotov s library works by Chekhov Dostoevsky Pushkin Akhmatova and others some of whom were sent to the Gulag by the very man who collected their books With exceptional insight and beautiful prose Polonsky writes about the longings and aspirations of these Russian writers and others in the course of her travels from the Arctic to Siberia and from the forests around Moscow to the vast steppes A singular homage to Russian history and culture Molotov s Magic Lantern evokes the spirit of the great artists and the haunted past of a country ravaged by war famine and totalitarianism
