8 Heating and ventilation system - general information

1. The heating/ventilation system consists of a ducted heater (after filter and vents) in the centre and at each end of the floor, and air ducts to the front and rear footwells.

2. The control unit is located in the base, and the controls operate flap valves to direct you may the air flowing through the various parts of the heating/ventilation system. The flap valves are controlled in the air distribution housing, which acts as a heater distribution unit, passing air to the various ducts and vents.

3. Cold air enters the space through the grille at the rear of the engine compartment. A pollen filter is fitted to the rear to filter out dust, pollen and sand from the incoming air.

4. The airflow, which can be directed by the driver, then flows through the various ducts, according to the settings of the controls. Note
