Using ColdFusion requires a fairly broad knowledge base, though the beginning CF developer need only have a background in HTML. From his teaching experience the author has found that students learn best by seeing several sample CF scripts and the output those scripts produce. This approach helps students set up the associations between the scripted instructions and what those instructions actually do. The author offers lots of example code that is well commented, is discussed thoroughly prior to its introduction, and is associated with a screen capture that shows the code's output. This three point methodology links how to discussions with actual CF output in a visual, comprehensible manner. In the case studies
