ALLELE, GENOTYPE, AND PHENOTYPE FREQUENCIES IN ROCK POCKET MOUSE POPULATIONS

INTRODUCTION: The tiny rock pocket mouse weighs just 15 grams, about as much as a handful of paper clips. A typical rock pocket mouse is 172 millimeters long from its nose to the end of its tail, which is shorter than an average pencil. Its impact on science, however, has been enormous. What's so special about this little mouse?

Populations of rock pocket mice are found all over the Sonoran Desert in the southwestern United States. Two varieties occur widely in the area—a light-colored variety and a dark-colored variety. Similarly, there are two major colors of substrate, or surface material, that make up the rocky desert floor. Most of the desert landscape consists of light-colored sand and granite. Here and there, however, separated by several kilometers of light-colored substrate, are patches of dark volcanic rocks that formed from cooling lava. These areas of dark volcanic rock range in age from 1,000 to more than 1 million years old.

Dr. Michael Nachman of the University of Arizona and his colleagues have spent many years researching the genetics of fur color in rock pocket mice. In particular, they were interested in understanding the forces that shape genetic variation in natural populations.

Investigating the adaptive value of different coat colors in rock pocket mice is an example of how scientists are attempting to connect genotype with phenotype for fitness-related traits. In this type of research, investigators try to find the underlying gene or genes for a given adaptation. Examples of other fitness-related traits that researchers are currently investigating are resistance to the pesticide warfarin in rats, tolerance to heavy metals in plants, and antibiotic resistance in bacteria.

PROCEDURE

1. Watch the short film The Making of the Fittest: Natural Selection and Adaptation. (10:25 min)

<https://www.biointeractive.org/classroom-resources/making-the-fittest-natural-selection-and-adaptation>

As you watch, record the following information:

- a. What specific trait did researchers' study in this investigation?
- b. How does this trait affect the survival of the mice in different environments?

Black fur in mice

Black fur allowed the pocket mice to adapt better in their environment, where there was a dark lava flow. It allowed them to camouflage better onto the dark rock to avoid predators.

- c. What is the genetic basis of the trait?

There was a mutation in the gene mc1r.

2. After watching the film, complete Parts 1–3 that follow.

Evolution and Belief Robert J. Asher,2012-02-23 Asher draws on his experiences as a paleontologist and a religious believer arguing that science does not contradict religious belief Baby Dinosaurs on the Ark? Janet Kellogg Ray,2021-09-09 A scientific look at creationism from a former creationist A significant number of Americans especially evangelical Christians believe Earth and humankind were created in their present form sometime in the last 10 000 years or so the rationale being that this is presumably the story told in the book of Genesis Within that group any threatening scientific evidence that suggests otherwise is rejected or when possible retrofitted into a creationist worldview But can this uncomfortable blend of biblical literalism and pseudoscience hold up under scrutiny Is it tenable to believe that the Grand Canyon was formed not millions of years ago by gradual erosion but merely thousands of years ago by the Great Flood Were there really baby dinosaurs with Noah on his ark Janet Kellogg Ray a science educator who grew up a creationist doesn't want other Christians to have to do the exhausting mental gymnastics she did earlier in her life Working through the findings of a range of fields including geology paleontology and biology she shows how a literal interpretation of the book of Genesis simply doesn't mesh with what we know to be reality But as someone who remains a committed Christian Ray also shows how an acceptance of the theory of evolution is not necessarily an acceptance of atheism and how God can still be responsible for having created the world even if it wasn't in a single momentary miraculous event Human Evolutionary

The Joy of Science Richard A. Lockshin, 2007-11-05 Scientists have great passion. What could be more exhilarating than to go to work every day feeling as if you were once again a nine-year-old called up to the stage to help the magician with his trick? To be a researcher is to always be in the position of having the chance to see how the trick works. No wonder that many researchers feel that each new day is the most exciting day to be a scientist. It therefore is not surprising that scientists have such trouble communicating with non-scientists. It is difficult for the scientist to understand a life not focused on the desire to understand. But the differences are not that. Everyone wants to understand; that is one of the factors that make us human. The difference is more that scientists limit their definition of comprehension to specific rules of logic and evidence. These rules apply and are used in everyday life but often with less rigor or restrictions on evidence

The Extinction of Evolution

Darek Issacs, 2012-09 The Extinction of Evolution explores what the world would be like if the theory of evolution were actually true Written from the view that man created the idea of God as opposed to God creating man this book painstakingly examines this atheistic mentality in vivid detail What it reveals will surprise you Evolution implemented to its logical conclusion has severe ramifications for humankind When one rejects the foundational truth of God and embraces Darwins alternative to our origins a disastrous chain of events is triggered As you dive deeply into this worldview of evolution you will be exposed to the most frightening environment imaginable where the rape murder and exploitation of the weak are not to be punished but to be applauded In the misguided words of Charles Darwin let the strongest live and the weakest die After traveling through the abyss of evolution a miserable philosophical failure The Extinction of Evolution brings you back to a place of hope where Christ stands above all as the Creator of this remarkable thing we call life The Extinction of Evolution has been compared to The Screwtape Letters a classic work of C S Lewis Like Screwtape this book has a fictional character that is the antagonist His name is Dr Iman Oxidant Dr Oxidant argues for a lifestyle derived from evolutionary ideals This approach makes this book about evolution accessible to the non scientific reader But in doing so Dr Oxidant causes an intense spiritual struggle for the born again believer as he argues for his atheistic evolutionary agenda It is a gripping read that identifies the true nature of evolution in a way that has never been done before The Health Bulletin ,1912
