ABSTRACT:

Financial Newspaper is a product which is required by all the stakeholders who deals in the financial market. Delay in the distribution can cause many problems to the readership figures. It is a product which loses its value as day goes on. It is a product without which a day cannot be started for this specific crowd.

Most of the financial daily newspapers are published from Monday to Friday. It covers most of the sector and industry news in 10 to 12 pages. It also covers few pages of very important news and tips regarding stock markets which are very much helpful to the investors and stock brokers.

A company needs to know the behaviour of their consumers to know what they think about the product or service which they are offering. The study has been done to understand the consumer behaviour on financial dailies. The comparison has been done between various financial newspapers. There was comparison done on the basis of the time of reading the newspaper by the readers and various features the readers wanted in a particular paper. The survey has been done on the basis of various parameters by comparing the features of various newspapers.

Unconventional Methodology in Organization and Management Research Alan Bryman,David A. Buchanan,2018 Most researchers in organization and management studies stick to two or three traditional research methods like surveys and interviews Sticking with the familiar is seen as a safe bet and innovation is discouraged by academic incentives and rewards But research participants are now suffering from survey fatigue and using the same old methods runs the risk of generating the same old findings This book describes twelve unconventional methodologies in organization and management research These include unconventional research settings and data sources unconventional research designs and data collection methods unconventional analytic approaches and designs and methods that exploit new technology developments The aim is to encourage dialogue and experimentation with regard to the development of innovative unconventional approaches to organization and management research Several commentators have criticized the way in which research methods have become more formulaic and have argued for greater diversity in research approaches The methodological perspective that we adopt shapes our interpretation of the information that we gather Different methods generate different kinds of information leading to different ways of understanding the phenomena that we are investigating Our methods influence our styles of theorizing ways of thinking and reasoning and forms of writing and reporting research This book will be of value to academic researchers in organization and management studies Doctoral candidates and Masters students on MBA and similar programmes
