Technique Jacques Ellul, 2024-02-21 Theology and Technique is a posthumous incomplete volume drafted in the 1970s that nevertheless constitutes a significant addition to the Ellul corpus Working from Jacques Ellul's original outline a collaborative team including three of Ellul's children a grandson and Ellul scholars has assembled previous partial publications that Ellul himself approved for eventual incorporation along with relevant unpublished essays and notes into a book which throws the relationship between Ellul's radical theology and sociological critique into fresh perspective Fr d ric Rognon contributes an especially insightful general introduction The translation by Christian Roy is a model of rendering the complexities of the French original into English This latest Ellul publication will be essential to any serious attempt to appreciate the scope and depth of Ellul's Christian engagement with the challenges of the contemporary world Construction Techniques in South

Atlas, or the Anxious Gay Science Georges Didi-Huberman, Shane B. Lillis, 2018-10-11 Aby Warburg s Mnemosyne Atlas 1925-1929 is a prescient work of mixed media assemblage made up of hundreds of images culled from antiquity to the Renaissance and arranged into startling juxtapositions Warburg s allusive atlas sought to illuminate the pains of his final years after he had suffered a breakdown and been institutionalized It continues to influence contemporary artists today including Gerhard Richter and Mark Dion In this illustrated exploration of Warburg and his great work Georges Didi-Huberman leaps from Mnemosyne Atlas into a set of musings on the relation between suffering and knowledge in Western thought and on the creative results of associative thinking Deploying writing that delights in dramatic jump cuts reminiscent of Warburg s idiosyncratic juxtapositions and drawing on a set of sources that ranges from ancient Babylon to Walter Benjamin Atlas or the Anxious Gay Science is rich in Didi-Huberman s trademark combination of élan and insight

Understanding Technological Innovation Patrice Flichy,2008-01-01 Researchers and students in the management of innovation will find in this book an analytical framework that articulates technological innovation processes and the creation of new markets The multiplication of examples and cases helps the reader in better grasping the different aspects of the proposed framework The focus on information and communication technologies is of high relevance it enables the reader to put present developments in perspective and this is especially relevant when discussing ascending innovation and the role of users and uses Philippe Laredo Universities of Paris Est and Manchester Coordinator of the European PRIME Network of Excellence Patrice Flichy takes the reader on a fascinating tour of the literature on technological innovation Innovation is situated within the frames of functioning and use offering rich insights into the strategies tactics improvisations and learning which occur through time He emphasises the dreams and musings of inventors novelists and the popular media to show how they mediate new technological frames of reference This book offers an excellent synthesis of the literature and an original historical account of innovation with special reference to information and communication technologies Robin Mansell London School of Economics and Political Science UK In Understanding Technological Innovation Patrice Flichy s interest is in the genesis of technology He describes the perspectives and interpretive schemes deployed by historians sociologists and economists in attempts to understand the determinants including chance of the particular forms of products and systems that have come to dominate the market and play so important a role some would claim dominant in our lives It is rare to find in one volume so informed a critique of the essential writings of historians of technology contemporary sociologists and economic historians His own special interest lies in the development of information technology and he puts his expertise to good use in revealing and contrasting the different perspectives and claims of these three schools Louis L Bucciarelli Massachusetts Institute of Technology US Working at the interface between interactionist sociology history and economics Flichy provides us with a language for charting the evolution of new technologies as generic technical capabilities are explored perhaps inspired by visions of societal change and become stabilised and attached to particular conceptions of use He offers us an integrated perspective on technological innovation addressing the influence of history and social context whilst remaining open to the often unanticipated dynamism and surprises that may surround both these trajectories This book will provide a thoughtful contribution to current debates The critical literature review will provide a rich and convenient source for advanced teaching and research training Robin Williams The University of Edinburgh UK How do the social sciences address the question of innovation and the relationship between technology and use This is the core point of this book which examines critically diverse works in sociology history economics and anthropology in order to formulate a new approach This reflection is essentially of a general nature though the cases used to illustrate the analysis are drawn primarily from the field of ICT Patrice Flichy studies how the socio technological actions of the different actors particularly designers and users are organized within the same frames of reference He also introduces a new element into the model by demonstrating how time is involved in technological choices Understanding Technological Innovation will be essential reading for advanced teaching and research training in the fields of science and technology studies and media and communication studies

An Inconstant Landscape Thomas G. Garrison, Stephen Houston, 2019-01-15 Presenting the results of six years of archaeological survey and excavation in and around the Maya kingdom of El Zotz An Inconstant Landscape paints a complex picture of a dynamic landscape over the course of almost 2 000 years of occupation El Zotz was a dynastic seat of the Classic period in Guatemala Located between the renowned sites of Tikal and El Per Waka it existed as a small kingdom with powerful neighbors and serves today as a test case of political debility and strength during the height of dynastic struggles among the Classic Maya In this volume contributors address the challenges faced by smaller polities on the peripheries of powerful kingdoms and ask how subordination was experienced and independent policy asserted Leading experts provide cutting edge analysis in varied topics and detailed discussion of the development of this major site and the region more broadly The first half of the volume contains a historical narrative of the cultural sequence of El Zotz tracing the changes in occupation and landscape use across time the second half provides deep technical analyses of material evidence including soils ceramics stone tools and bone The ever changing inconstant landscapes of peripheral kingdoms like El Zotz reveal much about their more dominant and better known neighbors An Inconstant Landscape offers a comprehensive multidisciplinary view of this important but under studied site an essential context for the study of the Classic Maya in Guatemala and a premier reference on the subject of peripheral kingdoms at the height of Maya civilization Contributors Timothy Beach Nicholas Carter Ewa Czapiewska Halliday Alyce de Carteret William Delgado Colin Doyle James Doyle Laura Gomez Jose Luis Garrido Lopez Yeny Myshell Gutierrez Castillo Zachary Hruby Melanie Kingsley Sheryl Luzzadder Beach Cassandra Mesick Braun Sarah Newman Rony Piedrasanta Edwin Román and Andrew K Scherer Understanding Lithic Recycling at the Late Lower Palaeolithic Qesem Cave, Israel Flavia Venditti,2019-04-09 Qesem Cave Israel acts here as a case study to explore two important topics from the Middle Pleistocene the practice of recycling old discarded flakes for the production of new objects by means of recycling and the production of flakes and tools of small dimensions topics that have not gained sufficient attention from the scientific community The Digitizing Family Geoffrey Hobbis,2020-02-07 At once a digital ethnography of smartphones and a classically conceived village based ethnography this book relocates the study of digital technologies to rural Melanesia with a focus on the Lau of Malaita Solomon Islands In this technography Geoffrey Hobbis studies the materiality and functional attributes of smartphones and their object biographies modes of acquisition maintenance uses limitations and the problems specific to this region in adopting and adapting smartphones in everyday life As he examines the various uses of smartphones as both telephone and multimedia device Hobbis also explores the social and cultural transformations the hopes and uncertainties with which they are associated Ultimately in bringing together a study of digital technologies with classical anthropological theory The Digitizing Family develops a theory of smartphones as kinship technologies and supercompositional objects The Lives of Stone Tools Kathryn Weedman Arthur,2018-04-24 This book offers critical insights into lithic technology and cultural practices concerning stone tools Provided by publisher , To Write the Africa World Achille Mbembe,Felwine Sarr,2022-12-01 In October 2016 thirty intellectuals and artists from Africa its diasporas and beyond gathered together in Dakar and Saint Louis Senegal to reflect on the present and future of Africa in the midst of transformations that are sweeping through the contemporary world The aim was to take stock of the renewal of Afro diasporic critical thought and to discuss the new perspectives emerging from the ongoing projects constructing political cultural and social imaginaries for and from the African continent This book brings together and makes available to the English speaking world the material presented at the 2016 Ateliers de la pensée Workshops of Thought in Dakar The authors deal with a wide range of issues including decolonization the development of social utopias and the pursuit of new forms of political economic and social production on the African continent Running throughout is a constant concern to interrogate the categories and frames of meaning that have served to characterize the dynamics of the African continent and a shared desire to produce new frames of intelligibility through which to see Africa's present realities and its future The contributions also attest to the view that there is no African question that is not also a global question and that the Africanization of the global question will be a decisive feature of the twenty first century To Write the Africa World and its companion volume The Politics of Time will be indispensable for anyone interested in Africa its past present and future and in the new forms of critical thought emerging from Africa and the Global South Understanding the Archaeological Record Gavin Lucas, 2012-02-06 This book explores the diverse understandings of the archaeological record in both historical and contemporary perspective while also serving as a guide to reassessing current views Gavin Lucas argues that archaeological theory has become both too fragmented and disconnected from the particular nature of archaeological evidence The book examines three ways of understanding the archaeological record as historical sources through formation theory and as material culture then reveals ways to connect these three domains through a reconsideration of archaeological entities and archaeological practice Ultimately Lucas calls for a rethinking of the nature of the archaeological record and the kind of history and narratives written from it
