Analytics and Intuition in the Process of Selecting Talent Jürgen Deters,2022-11-07 Human decisions especially in management and personnel selection are based on making judgments about people analytically and intuitively Yet in business and scientific contexts judgments are expected to be based on a rational analysis rather than intuitions or emotions Intuition is often seen as something mystical that should not be trusted and thus eliminated from human decision making Our empirical and theoretical research shows that this is impossible when people are dealing with people Instead intuitions and emotions have significant power in the decision making process Neuroscience even shows that humans are incapable of switching off their emotions or intuitions when making decisions Therefore intuition and emotions as evolutionary achievements of human beings should be looked at more closely to use the wisdom they offer This book provides an insight into the current state of research on rational analytical procedures in personnel selection and complements this with research on intuitions and emotions in personnel diagnostics By integrating scientifically verifiable rational analytical decision making procedures with the inner experiential knowledge of people this book bridges two complementary ways of recognizing and making good decisions It demonstrates how intuitions are developed and used in different fields of practice and cultures and how scientific research results from rational analytical and intuitive emotional selection procedures are successfully integrated by practitioners

Global Lean for Higher Education Stephen Yorkstone,2019-07-16 Higher education HE is amongst the hardest sectors in which to apply lean Universities resist change their organizational cultures being far from the manufacturing environment where lean was born The way HE organizations are structured funded and function globally is idiosyncratic one size is unlikely to fit all However the sector is also dynamic and a mature understanding of lean as a philosophy led by principles suggests there are many ways HE could grow through lean This collection of work reflects the state of the art in the global practical application of lean for higher education It aims to demonstrate the diverse applications of lean in universities inspiring others to deeply engage with lean thinking in their own unique context and to drive successful sustainable lean work Contributors are both well known experts in lean HE and up and coming practitioners Authors live globally in countries such as Australia Canada Malaysia Poland the UK and the USA They represent higher education environments from applied teaching institutions to research focused universities from 50 years old to more than 800 years old The collection focuses on lean applied across universities as a whole often addressing the administrative support or professional services side of how these institutions work The application of lean is not limited purely to the administration of such organizations but is applied to the primary purpose of universities teaching and research This volume is not focused on lean theory Instead it discusses how HE institutions have taken lean forward and the lessons learned that others can share and learn from It is composed of six sections Starting out People Projects Technology Sustaining Lean and Culture The rich and wide perspectives in this book will enable the reader to understand the many ways that lean thinking is applied in higher education globally More importantly this book will help the reader better understand and apply lean in the context of their own work Clinical Simulations for the Advanced Practice Nurse Celeste M.
