Media,2022-07-17T22:59:00Z Please note This is a companion version not the original book Sample Book Insights 1 The American people were called upon to vote on a new Constitution for the United States The subject was of great importance as it concerned not only the existence of the union but also the safety and welfare of the parts of which it was composed 2 It is not my intention to dwell on the opposition of any group of people simply because their situations might make them seem suspect We must admit that even such people may have good intentions and it is clear that many of the opposing views spring from blameless sources 3 I am of the opinion that it is in the interest of the American people to adopt the new Constitution I am convinced that this is the safest course for their liberty their dignity and their happiness I will not amuse you with an appearance of deliberation when I have decided 4 The utility of the Union to your political prosperity is evident It is whispered in private circles that the thirteen states are too large for any general system and that we must necessarily resort to separate confederacies This doctrine will be propagated until it has enough followers to openly declare it
