The Cambridge Companion to the Postcolonial Novel Ato Quayson, 2016. This Companion provides an engaging account of the postcolonial novel from Joseph Conrad to Jean Rhys. Covering subjects from disability and diaspora to the sublime and the city, this Companion reveals the myriad traditions that have shaped the postcolonial literary landscape.

Let the Tornado Come Rita Zoey Chin, 2015-08-25. The poet describes her traumatic life as a teenage runaway and the panic attacks she began to suffer as an adult, discussing how she healed as she recalled her childhood passion for horses and formed a connection with a spirited horse named Claret.

Preparing the Ghost Matthew Gavin Frank, 2014-07-01. A New York Times Book Review Editors' Choice Selection. Named one of the Best Books of the Year by Shelf Awareness. Memory, mythology, and obsession collide in this slyly charming New York Times Book Review account of the giant squid. In 1874, Moses Harvey, eccentric Newfoundland reverend and amateur naturalist, was the first person to photograph the near-mythic giant squid, draping it over his shower curtain rod to display its magnitude. In Preparing the Ghost, what begins as Harvey's story becomes spectacularly slippery, and many armed New Yorker.com as Matthew Gavin Frank winds his narrative tentacles around history, creative nonfiction, science, memoir, and meditations about the interrelated nature of them all. In his full-hearted lyrical style, Frank weaves in playful forays about his trip to Harvey's Newfoundland home, his own childhood and family history, and a catalog of peculiar facts that recall Melville's story of obsession with another deep-sea dwelling leviathan. Totally original and haunting, Flavorwire Preparing the Ghost is a delightfully unpredictable inquiry into the big, beautiful human impulse to obsess.

The Barter Siobhan Adcock, 2015-08-04. Eerie and atmospheric, this psychological thriller will twist its way into readers' psyches. Booklist. In today's lean-in era, debut novelist Siobhan Adcock casts the issue of whether women can ever have it all into a superbly written novel that will have readers everywhere talking. Bridget has given up her career to raise her daughter, but now a terrifying presence has entered their Texas home, and only Bridget can feel it. In 1902, motherhood spurs Rebecca to turn her back on her husband despite her own misgivings. As Adcock crosscuts these two women's stories with mounting tension, each arrives at a terrible ordeal of her own making.

The State of Race Sze Wei Ang, 2019-06-14. Contemporary ideas about race are often assumed to be products of specific locales and histories, yet we find versions of the same ideas about race across countries and cultures. How can we account for this paradox? In The State of Race, Sze Wei Ang argues that globalization has led to new ways of using racial stereotypes as shorthand for complex social relations in disparate national contexts. Literature then provides a key to understanding these labels and the role that race has played in shoring up state power since World War II. Ang contends that in an era marked by global economic dependence, the nation-state has only become more, rather than less, central to organizing social life via tropes of race that cast human and cultural differences in morally charged terms. Focusing on a series of Asian American and Malaysian texts Ang tracks the significance of two figures in particular the model minority and the communist spy Appearing in novels politics and popular culture these stereotypes anchor powerful narratives about race global capital and state sovereignty In exploring the United States and Malaysia two countries that seem to not have much in common Ang reveals how they share very similar ways of conceptualizing race and sheds light on an emerging global story of value
