Fort Hare University Study Guide 2015

Fred M. Hayward

Fort Hare University Study Guide 2015:

International Environments and Practices of Higher Education Andrea Caputo, Deborah Lock, Dieu Hack-Polay, 2022-10-31
This book provides a critical review of the teaching practices in higher education in international contexts. Sticky problems and debates about inclusivity, diversity and cultural representation in the curriculum and classroom are explored through the eyes of the academics who negotiate complex teaching landscapes. Transforming Higher Education in Asia and Africa

Fred M. Hayward, 2020-03-01 Drawing on over fifty years of on the ground experience Fred M Hayward's Transforming Higher Education in Asia and Africa analyzes change processes in higher education in eight Asian and African countries. The twelve cases range from the push to upgrade and transform higher education in Afghanistan in the midst of a war to the successful struggle against apartheid in South African institutions as well as thwarted efforts in Sierra Leone and Madagascar. Providing both practical lessons learned and hope for communities globally Hayward demonstrates that higher education change and even transformation which is more fundamental and structural can occur even in the most difficult environments. Successful transformation requires well crafted strategic and budget plans with careful implementation, monitoring and effective leadership at multiple levels. Yet also critical are a commitment to human development, a desire for freedom and belief in democracy and recognition that high quality higher education is essential to national development.

Donaldson,Gustav Visser,2021-06-10 This book provides an analysis of South African urban change over the past three decades It draws on a seminal text Homes Apart and revisits conclusions drawn in that collection that marked the final phases of urban apartheid It highlights changes in demography social as well as economic structure and their differential spatial expression across a range of urban sites in South Africa The evidence presented in this book points to a very complex set of narratives in urban South Africa and one that cannot be reduced to a singular statement so the conclusions of the various investigations are in many ways open As urban apartheid represented one clear outcome its post apartheid urban legacies varies greatly from city to city As such this book is a great resource to students and academics focused on urban change in South African cities since the demise of apartheid and scholars of urban policy making in South Africa and Southern urbanists generally

Urban Political Ecology in the Anthro-po-obscene Henrik Ernstson,Erik Swyngedouw,2018-12-07 Urban Political Ecology in the Anthro-po obscene Interruptions and Possibilities centres on how to organize anew the articulation between emancipatory theory and political activism Across its theoretical and empirical chapters written by leading scholars from anthropology geography urban studies and political science the book explores new political possibilities that are opening up in an age marked by proliferating contestations sharpening socio ecological inequalities and planetary processes of urbanization and environmental change A deepened conversation between urban environmental studies and political theory is mobilized to chart a radically new direction for the field of urban political ecology and cognate disciplines What could emancipatory politics be about in our time What does a return of the political under the aegis of equality and freedom signal today in theory and in practice How do political movements emerge that could reinvent equality and freedom as actually existing socio ecological practices The hope is to contribute discussions that can expand and rearrange critical environmental studies to remain relevant in a time of deepening depoliticization and the rise of post truth politics Urban Political Ecology in the Anthropocene will be of interest to postgraduates established scholars and upper level undergraduates from any discipline or field with an interest in the interface between the urban the environment and the political including geography urban studies environmental studies and political science Corrupted Jonathan D Jansen, 2023-02-01 In South African higher education the images of dysfunction are everywhere Student protests Violence Police presence Rubber or real bullets Class disruptions Burning tyres Damaged buildings Injury and sometimes death Reports of wholesale corruption Year after year often in the same set of universities the problem of routine instability seems insoluble The financial academic and reputational costs of ongoing dysfunction are high especially for those universities caught up in the never ending struggle to overcome apartheid legacies Any number of explanations have been ventured including a lack of resources shortage of capacity rural location corrupt officials and endemic conflict Corrupted takes a deeper look at dysfunction in an attempt to unravel the root causes in a sample of South African universities At the heart of the problem lies the vexed issue of resources or more pertinently the relationship between resources and power who gets what and why Whatever else it aspires to be commonly a place of teaching learning research and public duty a university in an impoverished community is also a rich concentration of resources around which corrupt staff students and those outside of campus all vie for access Taking a political economic approach Jonathan Jansen describes the daily struggle for institutional resources and offers accessible sensible insights He argues that the problem won't be solved through investments in capacity building alone because the combination of institutional capacity and institutional integrity contributes to serial instability in universities Rather durable solutions would include the depoliticisation of university councils and appointments of academics with integrity and capacity to manage and lead these fragile institutions This groundbreaking and long overdue study will offer a promising way forward for universities to better serve their communities and the country more broadly Doctoral Education in South Africa Nico Cloete, Johann Mouton, 2015-12-08 Worldwide in Africa and in South Africa the importance of the doctorate has increased disproportionately in relation to its share of the overall graduate output over the past decade This heightened attention has not only been concerned with the traditional role of the PhD namely the provision of future academics rather it has focused on the increasingly important role that higher education and particularly high level skills is perceived to play in national development and the knowledge economy This book is unique in the area of research into doctoral studies because it draws on a large number of studies conducted by the Centre of Higher Education Trust CHET and the Centre for Research on Evaluation Science and Technology CREST as well as on studies from the rest of Africa and the world In addition to the historical studies new quantitative and qualitative research was undertaken to produce the evidence base for the analyses presented in the book The findings presented in Doctoral Education in South Africa pose anew at least six tough policy questions that the country has struggled with since 1994 and continues to struggle with if it wishes to gear up the system to meet the target of 5 000 new doctorates a year by 2030 Discourses framed around the single imperatives of growth efficiency transformation or quality will not however generate the kind of policy discourses required to resolve these tough policy questions effectively What is needed is a change in approach that accommodates multiple imperatives and allows for these to be addressed simultaneously Socio-Spatial
