Young Meaning Makers—Teaching Comprehension, Grades K-2 D. Ray Reutzel,Sarah K. Clark,Cindy D. Jones,Sandra L. Gillam,2016-05-01 One of the most critical elements in the Common Core State Standards CCSS is the effective teaching of reading comprehension in the early years This timely resource provides evidence based practices for teachers to use as they work to meet standards associated with comprehending complex literature and informational texts. The authors offer a practical model with classroom applications drawing on the Construction Integration CI model of text comprehension. Illustrating why comprehension is so important in the CCSS framework, the book distills six key principles for meeting CCSS and other high challenge standards. Chapters show teachers how to build oral language and text comprehension skills with young readers including selecting texts, organizing materials, scheduling time, and assessing the acquisition of knowledge. Book Features: A practitioner friendly model for teaching comprehension of informational and narrative texts in the early grades; Guidance for how to create a classroom environment that supports oral language acquisition; Instructional strategies including teaching children to understand text structures, key details, and main ideas of a story or information text; A standards based series of formative comprehension assessments. Read it with the gusto it provides and deserves and go out into your classrooms and make texts come to life through the magic of understanding. Foreword by P. David Pearson, University of California, Berkeley. This is a must read for teachers and educators as they strive to meet the new literacy standards and improve reading comprehension outcomes for their students. Linda B. Gambrell, Reading Research Quarterly. The authors start with the most respected theory, add an insightful analysis of relevant Common Core standards, and combine the two with solid practical instructional ideas. Bravo! James W. Cunningham, professor emeritus, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

A Close Look At Close Reading Diane Lapp, Barbara Moss, Maria Grant, Kelly Johnson, 2015-01-29. The Common Core State Standards have put close reading in the spotlight as never before. While elementary school teachers are certainly willing to teach students to closely read both literary and informational text, many are wondering what exactly this involves. Is there a process to follow? How is close reading different from guided reading or other common literacy practices? How do you prepare students to have their ability to analyze complex texts measured by Common Core assessments? Is it even possible for students in grades K-5 to read to learn when they're only just learning to read? Literacy experts Diane Lapp, Barbara Moss, Maria Grant, and Kelly Johnson answer these questions and more as they explain how to teach young learners to be close readers and how to make close reading a habit of practice in the elementary classroom. Informed by the authors' extensive field experience and enriched by dozens of real-life scenarios and downloadable tools and templates, this book explores text complexity and how to determine if a particular text is a right fit for your learning purposes and your students. The process and purpose of close reading in the elementary grades, with an emphasis on its role in developing the 21st-century thinking, speaking, and writing skills essential for academic communication and required by the Common Core. How to plan, teach, and manage close reading sessions across the academic disciplines, including the kinds of questions to ask and the kinds of support to provide. How to assess close reading and help all students, regardless of linguistic, cultural, or academic background, connect deeply with what they read and derive meaning from a complex text. Equipping students with the tools and process of close reading sets them on the road to
