The Perplexity of a Muslim Woman Olfa Youssef, 2017-03-08 Using the methodology of modern scholars in the fields of Arabic lexicography linguistics and psychoanalysis Tunisian feminist scholar Olfa Youssef investigates the rulings about inheritance marriage and homosexuality in the Qur'anic text itself and compares them with the interpretations provided by male Muslim theologians and legal scholars from medieval times to the present In this book she makes five central arguments 1 There is a discrepancy between the layered signification in the Qur'anic text itself and the sutured explanations by religious scholars which have been enacted into law in many Muslim countries today 2 the plurality of meanings is the quintessential essence of the Qur'an as evidenced in the absence of any sura over which there was unanimous agreement among Muslim scholars 3 when male privilege was at stake male legal scholars to protect their own interests ignored the divine text and based their rulings on human consensus 4 Muslim medieval views on gender and homosexuality were more tolerant than contemporary ones and finally 5 preferring indeterminacy and perplexity over the finality and certainties found in the judgements of male theologians Youssef argues that only God knows the Qur'an's true meaning Her job as a Muslim female scholar is only to raise questions over those human interpretations that many Muslim societies mistake for divine will

Nationalists and Nomads Christopher L. Miller, 1998 How does African literature written in French change the way we think about nationalism colonialism and postcolonialism How does it imagine the encounter between Africans and French And what does the study of African literature bring to the fields of literary and cultural studies Christopher L Miller explores these and other questions in Nationalists and Nomads Miller ranges from the beginnings of francophone African literature which he traces not to the 1930s Negritude movement but to the largely unknown virulently radical writings of Africans in Paris in the 1920s to the evolving relations between African literature and nationalism in the 1980s and 1990s Throughout he aims to offset the contemporary emphasis on the postcolonial at the expense of the colonial arguing that both are equally complex with powerful ambiguities Arguing against blanket advocacy of any one model such as nationalism or hybridity to explain these ambiguities Miller instead seeks a form of thought that can read and recognize the realities of both identity and difference

Le livre noir de la Révolution française Renaud Escande, 2008 Les glorieux festifs et fraternels fruits d'une raison attendue par les siècles c'est ainsi que sont habituellement présentés les événements de ce qui fut aussi l'une des périodes les plus sanglantes de l'histoire inaugurant tragiquement une succession de révolutions et de conflits qui marquent l'Europe jusqu'au milieu du XXe siècle Il est toujours dans l'intérêt d'une nation de faire briller quelques mythes fondateurs et dans l'intérêt de ceux qui ont pris le pouvoir de masquer la violence et l'arbitraire sur lesquels ils ont assis leur domination Mais l'histoire ne se critique pas comme la mythologie et son exigence de vérité ne devrait pas se encombrer de visées utilitaristes Cet ouvrage ne entend pas noircir des faits qui témoignent par eux-mêmes Cette violence inouïe qui pourtant se réclamait des Lumières produisit une onde de choc telle qu'elle devait se tendre sur plusieurs générations Elle entra en contact avec elle sur le phénomène révolutionnaire toute une série d'ouvrages et de réflexions critiques dont on dénie trop vite souvent la légitimité Les Livres de

Frémion des nouvelles formes de la marchandise et de la guerre économique Un livre noir, diplomatique d'avant-guerre d'après les documents des archives russes, novembre 1910-: Aout 1914-Avril 1915 René Marchand, 1916 Hijab and the Republic Bronwyn Winter, 2009-01-19 The hijab is arguably the most discussed and controversial item of women's clothing today It has become the primary global symbol of female Muslim identity for Muslims and non Muslims alike and is the focus of much debate in the confrontation between Islam and the West Nowhere has this debate been more acute or complex than in France In Hijab and the Republic Bronwyn Winter provides a riveting account of the controversial 2004 French law to ban Islamic headscarves and other religious signs from public schools While much has been written on the subject Winter offers a unique feminist perspective carefully delineating its political and cultural aspects Drawing on both scholarly literature and popular commentary she examines the headscarf debate from its inception in 1989 through fluctuations in its intensity over the 1990s to its surging significance in the wake of 9/11 and the consequent shift in global politics The American

1914-avril 1915 René Marchand, 1916 Gender and Policy in France G. Allwood, K. Wadia, 2009-08-21 Combining fresh critical insights from a feminist and anti-racist perspective this is an excellent synthesis of some of the most important issues on the French public policy agenda It provides detailed analysis and broad contextualization of debates on employment parity domestic violence abortion prostitution and Islamic headscarves Torture and the Twilight of Empire Marnia Lazreg, 2016-12-13 Torture and the Twilight of Empire looks at the intimate relationship between torture and colonial domination through a close examination of the French army's coercive tactics during the Algerian war from 1954 to 1962. By tracing the psychological, cultural, and political meanings of torture at the end of the French empire, Marnia Lazreg also sheds new light on the United States and its recourse to torture in Iraq and Afghanistan. This book is nothing less than an anatomy of torture: its methods, justifications, functions, and consequences. Drawing extensively from archives, confessions by former torturers, interviews with former soldiers, and war diaries, as well as writings by Jean-Paul Sartre, Albert Camus, and others, Lazreg argues that occupying nations justify their systematic use of torture as a regrettable but necessary means of saving Western civilization from those who challenge their rule. She shows how torture was central to guerre révolutionnaire, a French theory of modern warfare that called for total war against the subject population and which informed a pacification strategy founded on brutal psychological techniques borrowed from totalitarian movements. Lazreg seeks to understand torture's impact on the Algerian population, especially women, and also on the French troops who became their torturers. She explores the roles Christianity and Islam played in rationalizing these acts and the ways in which torture became not only routine but even acceptable. Written by a preeminent historical sociologist, Torture and the Twilight of Empire holds particularly disturbing lessons for us today as we carry out the War on Terror. The Administration of Sickness W. Gallois, 2008-09-24. This book is the first comprehensive study of French medicine in nineteenth-century Algeria. It argues that the medicalization was a priority for colonial regimes, but this goal was thwarted by ineffectual French medicine, institutional rivalries, and the manner in which medicine became a focus for the resistance of French domination and rule.
