Masterweb News Nigeria Report:

Nigeria's Critical Election John A. Ayode, Adeoye A. Akinsanya, 2012-11-29 Elections have been central to regime collapse in Nigeria because they neither passed the test of citizens acceptability nor electoral neutrality They always pushed the country to a dangerous brink which she has often survived after serious constitutional and political bruises The general election of 1964 rocked the delicate balance of the country resulting in the military coup of January 15 1966 and a thirty month civil war The subsequent effort of the military at restructuring the country did not go far enough to win the civic confidence of the people The military availed itself of another opportunity of tinkering with the system in 1993 However it demonstrated that it was not immune to civic dishonesty when it annulled the widely acclaimed free and fair presidential election in June 12 1993 By fits and starts Nigeria held another election in 1999 which was tolerated only because of citizens fatigue of military rule The elections of 2003 and 2007 were classic examples of make belief democracy The feeding of inequity and if you will domination persisted A combination of fortune trickery and arm twisting produced a power shift in favour of Dr Goodluck Ebele Azikwe Jonathan in April 2011 The subsequent attempt by the north to create a strategic consensus did not save it from being pushed into fringe politics forcing some of its spokespersons to vow that they will make governance impossible The election was better than the worst but much still remains to be done Republic of Biafra: Once Upon a Time in Nigeria Onyema G. Nkwocha, Onyema Nkwocha, 2010 Not quite four months after the Western Region s election of October 10 1965 did the localized mayhem in that Region find its way furiously into the center of the nation on January 15 1966 It was like a whirl wind of nothing but anarchy and lawlessness The serious aftermath of the marred and rigged election was that it acted as the last straw that broke the Camel s back providing immediate reason for the army to overthrow the government of Dr Nnamdi Azikiwe Anarchy ensued a counter coup led to the death of Major General Ironsi Callous barbarous massacre of thousands of easterners in the North followed With their lives in jeopardy easterners fled for safety to eastern region refugee crisis followed To guarantee their safety easterners seceded from Nigeria and on May 30th 1967 formed an independent and sovereign nation of the Republic of Biafra Determined to bring Easterners back on July 6 1967 Nigeria invaded Biafra waged a gruesome thirty month civil war against Biafra Nigeria blockaded Biafra on land sea and air to prevent food from entering Biafra A malnutrition disease Kwashiorkor that caused the deaths of thousands of Biafrans followed Nigeria bombed Biafran civilians killing thousands On January 12 1970 the war ended leaving more than three million people dead in a war that was totally avoidable Conflict of Securities J. J. Abubakar, 2010-04-30 Security has become a buzzword in political discourses in Africa and elsewhere especially since the terrorist attacks on America on 9 11 2001 and America s global responses to threat of terrorism Yet there persists a fundamental conflict of securities in Africa the security of the state and its governing elites versus the security of the people from a human and societal security point of view African elites and the general populace appear to have divergent notions of security For the governing elites security seems to be mainly about territorial sovereignty protection and patrimonialization of the state largesse while for the majority of the under privileged and middle class Africans security appears to be more about access to basic livelihood and farmland human capital improvement employment and wage matters protection from violence functional development infrastructures transport networks electricity clean water education etc as well as availability and affordability of essential services and amenities Africa s security contradictions and dilemma raise a number of urgent and compelling questions whose security matters most How has security been historically constructed and provided in Africa How have those who are alienated from the dominant security agendas responded to their conditions of insecurity What nexus of factors and interests influence security governance and politics in various African states and why And what are the domestic regional and international implications of the politics of security for Africa

Seeking Viable Grassroots Representation Mechanisms in African Constitutions Charles Mwalimu,2009 In this book Charles Mwalimu explores viable grassroots representation mechanisms in African constitutions in order to positively integrate indigenous and modern systems in Sub Saharan Africa A comparative study method is used to examine the constitutional principles of chieftaincy and local government and their impact on human rights To establish and prove lack of positive integration Mwalimu connects this failure to poor constitutionalism development and stultified growth and human rights violations This book proposes remedial actions to build nondiscriminatory constitutional regimes eradicating violations of human rights at the international level How has the oil industry responded This timely and first of its kind publication answers these questions and examines the protection and security of offshore oil and gas installations from a global industry wide and company level perspective Looking at attacks on offshore installations that occurred throughout history of the offshore petroleum industry it examines the different types of security threats facing offshore installations the factors that make offshore installations attractive targets the nature of attacks and the potentially devastating impacts that can result from attacks on these important facilities It then examines the international legal framework state practice and international oil and gas industry responses that aim to address this vital problem Crucially the book includes a comprehensive dataset of attacks and security incidents involving offshore oil and gas installations entitled the Offshore Installations Attack Dataset OIAD This is an indispensable reference work for oil and gas industry professionals company security officers policy makers maritime lawyers and academics worldwide Planning & Changing ,2015 Civil-Military Relationships in Developing Countries Glen Segell,Dhirendra K. Vajpeyi,2013-12-16 This book examines two sides of civil military relations in developing countries One is the place of civil military relations within a state s political and economic systems the other is the role of the military on a state s maintenance of peace and stability The book thus proposes that the function of soldiers is not only to defend and deter but also to develop The chapters provide a comprehensive analysis of civil military relationship with comparative cases on Botswana China El Salvador Honduras Guatemala India Indonesia Nicaragua Nigeria Pakistan and The Arab Spring Countries of the Middle East including Bahrain Sudan Iraq Jordan Saudi Arabia Egypt Tunisia Yemen and Libya Each chapter analyzes the historical cultural and political factors that shape the direction of the man on the white horse military elite and the politician In doing so this book reveals the potential impact of the nature of civil military relations on democratization political and economic development and on regional international security Dhirendra Vajpeyi and Glen Segell discuss and critique the current models and literature on civil military relations The innovative framework and careful choice of case studies presented in a jargon free accessible style makes this book attractive to scholars and students of civil military relations and development studies as well as policymakers GMOs, Consumerism and the Global Politics of Biotechnology Mawere, Munyaradzi,Nhemachena, Artwell,2017-08-16 Despite sustained continental and national struggles for autonomy sovereignty and independence in postcolonial Africa the continent is increasingly embattled by the forces of globalisation which threaten African identity that is at the core of African struggles for continental and national unity Situating the debates in the contemporary discourses on decoloniality global consumerism global food apartheid and the challenges and prospects of the emergent sharing economies this book critically examines the importation use and implications of genetically modified organisms GMOs and other such non food products on African bodies institutions and cultures The book poses questions about how Africa can be decolonised both politically and in terms of global food apartheid and the dehumanising importation and use of foreign non food products some of which militate against the ethos of African identity Renaissance and indigeneity On note the book urges the African continent to ensure the safety of imports ensuing from the global flows and circulations that are mired in the resilient invisible global matrices of power

The Master's Voice Dulue Mbachu, 2008-10-14 In this study Dulue Mbachu examines Nigeria's place in global news flow using foreign news reporting by two Lagos newspapers to illustrate the dependence of local news media on Western news organizations for knowledge of what happens in the rest of the world It shows that foreign news coverage depends largely on reporting provided by leading Western news agencies The study found that much of the foreign news was about the United States and leading Western European countries Even when Nigerian newspapers covered their immediate region of Africa and other non Western parts of the world the sources were often the same leading news agencies from the West The image of the world the newspapers convey to their readers is essentially that created by the dominant Western news agencies The constructs made by these agencies are not value free but often correspond to their own interests that of their countries or the ideologies to which they subscribe in their definition of the world
