Le Dimanche de Bouvines, 27 Juillet 1214 Georges Duby, 1980 , The Second Crusade and the Cistercians M. Gervers, 2016-04-30 No subject in medieval history is changing as rapidly as crusade studies Even so the Second Crusade has been oddly neglected The present volume is the first ever to have been devoted to it in English and one of the few which has appeared in any language Particular attention is paid to the key role played by St Bernard and the Cistercians in this crusade and their relations with the Military Orders An interdisciplinary approach is taken incorporating history art and music The Volume contains unparalleled bibliography listing over 700 primary and secondary sources The Militant Middle Ages Tommaso di Carpegna Falconieri, 2019-11-04 In The Militant Middle Ages historian Tommaso di Carpegna Falconieri delves into common perceptions of the Middle Ages and how these views shape contemporary political contexts Today more than ever the medieval era is mined from across the political spectrum for symbols examples allegories and models to represent and interpret the present From new crusades to fantasy literature and cosplay from Catholic Traditionalism to environmentalism from neo Vikings to medieval tourism and festivals Carpegna Falconieri leads us in an impassioned and often disquieting journey through the Modern Middle Ages The first book length study dedicated to the broad phenomenon of political medievalism The Militant Middle Ages offers a new lens for scrutinizing contemporary society through its instrumentalization of the medieval past First published in Italian as Medioevo militante La politica di oggi alle prese con barbari e crociati 2011 Giulio Einaudi editore s p a Torino Irreverence and the Sacred Hugh B. Urban, Greg Johnson, 2019 Irreverence and the Sacred brings together some of the most cutting edge interdisciplinary and international scholars working today in order to debate key issues in the critical and comparative study of religion The project is inspired in large part by the work of Bruce Lincoln whose influential and wide ranging scholarship has consistently posed challenging provocative and often irreverent questions that have really pushed the boundaries of the field of religious studies in important sometimes controversial ways Retracing the history of the discipline of religious studies Lincoln argues that the field has tended to champion a validating feel good approach to religion rather than posing more critical questions about religious claims to authority and their role in history politics and social change A critical approach to the history of religions he suggests would focus on the human temporal and material aspects of phenomena that are claimed to have a superhuman eternal or transcendent status This volume takes up Lincoln s challenge to do better by engaging in critical analyses of four key themes in the study of religion myth ritual gender and politics The book also interrogates the politics of scholarship itself critically examining the relations of power and material interests at work in the study as well as the practice of religion The scholars involved in this project include not only some of the most important figures in the American study of religion such as Wendy Doniger Russell McCutcheon Ivan Strenski and Lincoln himself but also European scholars whose work is hugely influential overseas but not as well known in the U S such as Stefan Arvidsson Claude Calame Nicolas Meylan and others

Rethinking France: Les Lieux de Mémoire, Volume 4 Pierre Nora, 2001 Les Lieux de mémoire is perhaps one of the most profound historical documents on the history and culture of the French nation. Assembled by Pierre Nora during the Mitterrand years, this multivolume series has been hailed as a magnificent achievement. The New Republic and the grandest most ambitious effort to dissect, interpret, and celebrate the French fascination with their own past. The Los Angeles Times Written during a time when French national identity was undergoing a pivotal change and the nation was struggling to define itself, this unprecedented series consists of essays by prominent historians and cultural commentators which take as their points of departure a lieu de mémoire, a site of memory used to order, concentrate, and secure notions of France's past. The first volume in the Chicago translation Rethinking France brings together works addressing the omnipresent role of the state in French life. As in the other volumes, the lieux de mémoire serve as entries into the French past, whether they are actual sites, political traditions, rituals, or even national pastimes and textbooks. Volume I, The State, offers a sophisticated and engaging view of the French and their past through widely diverse essays on, for example, the chateau of Versailles and the French history of absolutism, the Code civil, and its ordering of French life, memoirs written by French statesmen, and Charlemagne and his place in French history. Nora's authors constitute a who's who of French academia, yet they wear their erudition lightly. Taken as a whole, this extraordinary series documents how the French have come to see themselves and why.

The Cry of Vertières
Jean-Pierre Le Glaunec, 2020-05-21 This book tells the story of the Battle of Vertières fought in 1803 between indigenous Haitian forces under the leadership of Jean Jacques Dessalines and a French expeditionary army commanded by Napoleon. The battle marked the culmination of a thirteen-year revolutionary struggle to end slavery and the dawn of an independent Haiti. Yet despite its pivotal importance to the history of Haiti, France, and the Americas, the Battle of Vertières has been struck from the record. The Cry of Vertières is the first book-length study of the battle, drawing from an array of sources including military correspondence, Haitian literature, art, and popular music. The event itself is recounted in vivid detail; it is a dramatic story of a volunteer army of former slaves seeking the promises of freedom and citizenship held out by the revolution, defeating a colonial power determined to re-enslave them. The book also examines why the history of the battle has been suppressed in France, an act of erasure of a humiliating defeat, and why it remains fragile even in Haiti. Jean-Pierre Le Glaunec explains that today Vertières is both a key lieu de mémoire that embodies reconciliation, pride, and strength for the Haitian people and a figure of speech exploited by politicians to reinforce their power. Describing a decisive yet largely forgotten moment in the revolutionary history of the Americas, The Cry of Vertières makes an essential contribution to the complex subjects of race, memory, colonialism, and cultural nationalism in present-day France and Haiti.

Writing Battles Máire Ní Mhaonaigh, Rory Naismith, Elizabeth Ashman Rowe, 2020-05-14 Battles have long featured prominently in historical consciousness as moments when the balance of power was seen to have tipped or when aspects of collective identity were shaped But how have perspectives on warfare changed How similar are present day ideologies of warfare to those of the medieval period Looking back over a thousand years of British Irish and Scandinavian battles this significant collection of essays examines how different times and cultures have reacted to war considering the changing roles of religion and technology in the experience and memorialisation of conflict While fighting and killing have been deplored glorified and everything in between across the ages Writing Battles reminds us of the visceral impact left on those who come after

The Corruption of Angels Mark Gregory Pegg, 2009-01-10 On two hundred and one days between May 1 1245 and August 1 1246 more than five thousand people from the Lauragais were questioned in Toulouse about the heresy of the good men and the good women more commonly known as Catharism Nobles and diviners butchers and monks concubines and physicians blacksmiths and pregnant girls in short all men over fourteen and women over twelve were summoned by Dominican inquisitors Bernart de Caux and Jean de Saint Pierre In the cloister of the Saint Sernin abbey before scribes and witnesses they confessed whether they or anyone else had ever seen heard helped or sought salvation through the heretics This inquisition into heretical depravity was the single largest investigation in the shortest time in the entire European Middle Ages Mark Gregory Pegg examines the sole surviving manuscript of this great inquisition with unprecedented care often in unexpected ways to build a richly textured understanding of social life in southern France in the early thirteenth century He explores what the interrogations reveal about the individual and communal lives of those interrogated and how the interrogations themselves shaped villagers perceptions of those lives The Corruption of Angels similar in breadth and scope to Emmanuel Le Roy Ladurie s Montaillou is a major contribution to the field It shows how heretical and orthodox beliefs flourished side by side and more broadly what life was like in one particular time and place Pegg s passionate and beautifully written evocation of a medieval world will fascinate a diverse readership within and beyond the academy

A Cumulative Bibliography of Medieval Military History and Technology Kelly DeVries, 2001-11-01 There is perhaps no other more lively area for study in medieval history than medieval military history with its attendant and complementary field the history of medieval military technology In the past twenty years it seems that more major scholarly inroads have been made in this field than in any other historical genre of medieval studies or chronological period of military history What this has meant is that it is now more difficult to keep up with all of the trends and sources in the field than ever before Hence the need for a reference work which covers what has previously been written and which in turn can assist the scholar both the more experienced academic and the beginner to improve his or her work in medieval military history or the history of medieval military technology Utilizing library catalogues bibliographies and footnotes this bibliography has compiled the most complete list of secondary references to works in medieval military history and the history of military technology It keeps fairly strictly to a geography which centers on conventional medieval boundaries Europe Byzantium and the Middle East However the chronology does differ from the conventional medieval dates Because of its influence on the early Middle Ages references to Late Antiquity especially to the military history and technology of the third and fourth century Roman Empire have been included For the opposite reason the influence of the Middle Ages on the sixteenth and early seventeenth centuries references to military history and technology up to 1648 have been included as well This is especially important in the study of the Ottoman Turkish Wars and Arms and Armor where the end of the fifteenth century as a chronological terminus makes little sense

The Verdict of Battle James Q. Whitman, 2012-10-22 Slaughter in battle was once seen as a legitimate way to settle disputes When pitched battles ceased to exist the law of victory gave way to the rule of unbridled force Whitman explains why ritualized violence was more effective in ending carnage and why humanitarian laws that view war as evil have led to longer more barbaric conflicts

A History of the Social Sciences in 101 Books Cyril Lemieux, Laurent Berger, Marielle Mace, Gildas Salmon, Cecile Vidal, 2023-08-01 An intellectual history of the social sciences that offers a library of 101 books that broke new ground for the field What are the social sciences What unifies them This essay collection seeks to answer these and other important questions as it considers how the field has developed over the years from post World War II to the present day throughout the world Edited by Cyril Lemieux Laurent Berger Marielle Mac Gildas Salmon and C cile Vidal A History of the Social Sciences in 101 Books brings together a diverse range of researchers in the social sciences to present short essays on 101 books both renowned and lesser known that have shaped the field from Theodor Adorno and Max Horkheimer s Dialectic of Enlightenment 1947 to Michel Aglietta s Money 5000 Years of Debt and Power 2016 While there have been surveys and intellectual histories of particular disciplines within the social sciences history anthropology sociology until now there has been no intellectual history of the social sciences as a unified whole Far from presenting a fixed and frozen canon A History of the Social Sciences in 101 Books offers instead a moving multiform landscape with no settled questions only an ongoing series of new perspectives and challenges to previously established grounding

Micro Middle Ages Paul Edward Dutton, 2023-10-30 Micro Middle Ages brings together five microhistorical case studies focusing on small or seemingly inconsequential evidence that leads to broader conclusions about medieval history and the way we do and understand history in general Paul Dutton provides an overview of microhistorical approaches and theorizes about its use in pre modern history As opposed to studying history from above or history from below Dutton shows the advantages for historians of doing history from the inside out starting from some single overlooked but potentially knowable thing delving deep inside and then reattaching it to its time and place Such an approach has one abiding advantage its insistence on being grounded in the particularity of the evidence The book highlights what the microhistorical is its conceptual and practical challenges Dutton argues that the attention to the micro has always been with us and is a constitutive cognitive part of who we are as human beings

War, Communication, and the Politics of Culture in Early Modern Venice Anastasia Stouraiti, 2023-01-05 Weaving together cultural history and critical imperial studies this book shows how war and colonial expansion shaped seventeenth century Venetian culture and society Anastasia Stouraiti tests conventional assumptions about republicanism commercial peace and cross cultural exchange and offers a novel approach to the study of the Republic of Venice Her extensive research brings the history of communication in dialogue with conquest and empire building in the Mediterranean to provide an original interpretation of the politics of knowledge in wartime Venice The book argues that the Venetian Ottoman War of the Morea 1684 1699 was mediated through a diverse range of cultural mechanisms of patrician elite domination that orchestrated the production of popular consent It sheds new light on the militarisation of the Venetian public sphere and exposes the connections between bellicose foreign policies and domestic power politics in a state celebrated as the most serene republic of merchants

Guns and Men in Medieval Europe, 1200-1500 Kelly DeVries, 2024-10-28 These articles are devoted to the two main aspects of medieval warfare men and technology Men fought led and ultimately killed in war while the technology that they used facilitated these tasks The first group of essays highlights human strengths in the fighting of medieval wars with a focus on events of the 14th and 15th centuries specifically the Anglo French wars and wars against the Turks A second group addresses the technological side of warfare in particular the advent and proliferation of early gunpowder weapons which evolved rapidly during the late Middle Ages although never replacing the role of men The articles study various facets of this evolution from the increased use and effectiveness of guns in battles sieges and naval warfare to changes in their science and metallurgy surgical treatment of wounds caused by them and governmental centralization of the technology The Haskins Society Journal 23 Herbert Kessler, Hugh Doherty, Jay C. Rubenstein, Kirsten Fenton, 2014-04-17 This volume of the Haskins Society Journal furthers the Society's commitment to historical and interdisciplinary research on the early and central Middle Ages especially in the Anglo Saxon Anglo Norman and Angevin worlds but also on the continent The topics of the essays it contains range from the curious place of Francia in the historiography of medieval Europe to strategies of royal land distribution in tenth century Anglo Saxon England to the representation of men and masculinity in the works of Anglo Norman historians Essays on the place of polemical literature in Frutolf of Michelsberg's Chronicle exploration of the relationship between chivalry and crusading in Baudry of Bourgeuil's History and Cosmas of Prague's manipulation of historical memory in the service of ecclesiastical privilege and priority each extend the volume's engagement with medieval historiography employing rich continental examples to do so Investigations of comital personnel in Anjou and Henry II's management of royal forests and his foresters shed new light on the evolving nature of secular governance in the twelfth centuries and challenge and refine important aspects of our view of medieval rule in this period The volume ends with a wide ranging reflection on the continuing importance of the art object itself in medieval history and visual studies Contributors H F Doherty Kathryn Dutton Kirsten Fenton Paul Fouracre Herbert Kessler Ryan Lavelle Thomas J H McCarthy Lisa Wolverton Simon Yarrow
