Exercise: Knowledge Policy Paper

Task Description:

Creating an Evidence-Based Knowledge Policy Paper involves a series of steps that guide you through the process of identifying, evaluating, and synthesizing research to inform policy decisions. After this step, you will be able to identify a specific knowledge domain, develop a research question, and conduct a literature search.

Example: You are interested in the impact of climate change on coastal cities. You identify a specific topic, such as the impact of sea level rise on coastal cities. You then search for research on this topic, identifying relevant studies and synthesizing the findings. This process involves identifying a specific knowledge domain, developing a research question, and conducting a literature search.

Knowledge Policy Paper: This document is a synthesis of research on a specific topic, such as the impact of climate change on coastal cities. It includes a literature review, a synthesis of the findings, and a discussion of the implications for policy. The paper is written in a clear, concise, and accessible style, making it suitable for use by policymakers and the public. The paper is organized into sections, including an introduction, a literature review, a synthesis of the findings, and a discussion of the implications for policy. The paper is written in a clear, concise, and accessible style, making it suitable for use by policymakers and the public.

In this assignment, you will create the policy paper for a specific knowledge domain. The policy paper will be used to inform policy decisions. The paper will be written in a clear, concise, and accessible style, making it suitable for use by policymakers and the public.

Objectives:

After completing this assignment, you should be able to:

1. Identify a specific knowledge domain and develop a research question.
2. Conduct a literature search and identify relevant studies.
3. Synthesize the findings of the research and develop a policy recommendation.

Submission:

Submit your completed policy paper to the instructor.
