Ems Memorandum 2014 June:

Global Economic Prospects, June 2015 The World Bank, 2015-06-22 Global growth is expected to be 2.8 percent in 2015 but is expected to pick up to 3.2 percent in 2016. Growth in developing countries and some high income countries is set to disappoint again this year. The prospect of rising borrowing costs will compound the challenges many developing countries are facing as they adapt to an era of low commodity prices. Risks to this outlook remain tilted to the downside. This edition of Global Economic Prospects includes two Special Features that analyze the policy challenges raised by the two transitions in developing countries: the risks associated with the first U.S. central bank interest rate increase since 2006 and the implications of persistently low commodity prices for low income countries. Global Economic Prospects is a World Bank Group Flagship Report that examines global economic developments and prospects with a special focus on developing countries on a semiannual basis in January and June. The January edition includes in depth analyses of topical policy challenges faced by developing countries while the June edition contains shorter analytical pieces. Jamaica International Monetary Fund. Western Hemisphere Dept., 2013-05-17 During the past three decades Jamaica has shown low economic growth and high public debt and has faced other social challenges. To help restore competitiveness and improve financial market conditions the authorities have come up with a comprehensive four year economic program 2013-14 through 2016-17 that aims to avert immediate crisis risks and create the necessary conditions for sustained growth. The program's main pillars include structural reforms, fiscal adjustments supported by extensive fiscal reforms and improved social protection programs. Under the Same Sky Mojgan Shamsalipoor, Milad Jafari, James Knight, 2017-04-26 After fleeing their homeland Australian refugee policies threaten to tear this young couple apart. An unforgettable story of love, hope and a quest for freedom. At seventeen all Mojgan Shamsalipoor wanted was to be safe from physical and sexual abuse, go to school and to eventually marry for love. In Iran she was denied all of this. Milad Jafari was a shy teenage boy who found his voice as a musician. But the rap music he loved was illegal in his country. All Milad's father, a key maker, builder and shopkeeper wanted was for his family to live free from the fear of arrest, imprisonment or execution. To do that they all had to flee Iran. Mojgan and Milad met in Australia. But in the months between their separate sea voyages the Australian government changed the way asylum seekers were treated. Though Milad is recognised as a refugee and will soon become a proud Australian citizen, Mojgan has been told she cannot stay here even though the threat of imprisonment and further abuse or worse means she can't return to Iran. UNDER THE SAME SKY is a powerful insight into the human face of asylum seekers and the way history has shaped the lives of these two young people. It also shows the compassion alive in our suburbs. For Mojgan and Milad their love keeps their hopes alive. Extractives Industry Law in Africa Damilola S. Olawuyi, 2018-09-11 The book provides a systematic examination of the legal, fiscal and institutional frameworks for the commercial development of petroleum and solid mineral resources in Africa.
