Irony, Deception

and Humour Marta Dynel, 2018-03-19 This book offers fresh perspectives on untruthfulness entailed in various forms of irony deception and humour which have so far constituted independent foci of linguistic and philosophical investigation. These three distinct albeit sometimes co-occurring notions are brought together within a neo-Gricean framework and consistently discussed as representing overt or covert untruthfulness. The postulates that represent the interface between language philosophy and pragmatics are illustrated with scripted interactions culled from the series House which help appreciate the complexities of the three concepts at hand. Apart from affording new insights into the nature of irony deception and humour, this book critically examines previous literature on these notions as well as relevant aspects of Grice's philosophy of language. Giving a state-of-the-art picture of untruthfulness, this publication will be of interest to both experienced and inexperienced researchers studying Grice's philosophy, irony, deception and/or humour.

The Medical Carnavalesque Lisa Gabbert, 2024-08-06 The practice of medicine is immersed in issues of life, death and suffering in relation to the mortal body. Because of this, the medical profession is a fertile arena for folklore that serves to address these topics among physicians. In The Medical Carnavalesque, Lisa Gabbert argues that this extraordinarily difficult work context has led to the development of an occupational corpus of folklore, backstage talk and humor that she calls the medical carnivalesque. Gabbert argues that suffering is not only something experienced by patients but that the organization, practice and ethos of medicine can induce suffering in physicians themselves. Featuring topics such as the institutionalized nature of physician suffering, death-related humor and talk stories about patient bodies and parodies of medical specialties, The Medical Carnavalesque shows us how the culture of contemporary medicine uses travesty, humor and inversion to address the sometimes painful and often transgressive aspects of doctoring. The Medical Carnavalesque connects patient and physician suffering to laughter, acknowledges suffering as an essential component of life and constitutes a way in which some physicians address the core philosophical and existential issues with which they regularly engage as they go about their daily work.

Understanding Humor through Communication John C. Meyer, 2015-10-22 Understanding Humor through Communication explores theories of humor origin as well as humor functions in human groups and societies through communication. A model of humor decision by individuals is detailed, followed by humor's emergence in communication. Elements of humor sources (incongruity, superiority and relief), humor intent (comic or tragic), perspectives and humor perception (ego involvement, script awareness, bona fide messages and non-bona fide messages) are incorporated. Persuasive organizational and interpersonal settings involving humor are explored in depth to consider its functions. The individual choice to experience humor is detailed in its effects as are the social implications of widespread humor desired and invoked in human society. Understanding Humor through Communication will appeal to scholars of communication, psychology and sociology.

Storytelling on the Northern Irish Border Ray Cashman, 2011-09-23 A folklorist explores the storytelling traditions of a small Irish town where local character anecdotes build community across sectarian divides. More than quaint local color folklore is a crucial part of life in Aghyaran a mixed Catholic Protestant border community in Northern Ireland Neighbors socialize during wakes and ceilis informal nighttime gatherings without regard to religious ethnic or political affiliation The witty sometimes raucous stories swapped on these occasions offer a window into Aghyaran residents views of self and other in the wake of decades of violent conflict Through anecdotes about local characters participants explore the nature of community and identity in ways that transcend Catholic or Protestant sectarian histories Ray Cashman analyzes local character anecdotes in detail and argues that while politicians may take credit for the peace process in Northern Ireland no political progress would be possible without ordinary people using shared resources of storytelling and socializing to imagine and maintain community
