Foreign Humanitarian Assistance Joint Publication 3 29:

Foreign Humanitarian Assistance Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, 2014-11-04 This publication provides joint doctrine for planning, executing, and assessing foreign humanitarian assistance operations Foreign Humanitarian Assistance U.S. Joint Force Command, 2014-07-26 Foreign humanitarian assistance (FHA) activities conducted by US Armed Forces range from steady-state program activities supporting geographic combatant commanders' GCC security cooperation and related programs to conducting limited contingency operations in support of another United States Government. USG department or agency FHA activities include foreign disaster relief (FDR) and other activities that directly address a humanitarian need. FHA operations can be supported by other activities conducted by US military forces or they may be conducted concurrently with other types of related operations and activities such as dislocated civilian support, security operations, and foreign consequence management. FHA operations including FDR operations are normally conducted in support of the United States Agency for International Development (USAID) or the Department of State (DOS). FHA provided by US forces is limited in scope and duration, designed to supplement or complement the efforts of the host nation (HN) that has the primary responsibility for providing that assistance and may support other USG departments or agencies. Although US military forces are organized, trained, and equipped to conduct military operations that defend and protect US national interests, their inherent unique capabilities may be used to conduct FHA activities. Foreign Humanitarian Assistance Department of Defense, 2019-07-19 Foreign Humanitarian Assistance Joint Publication 3 29 14 May 2019 This publication provides fundamental principles and guidance to plan, execute, and assess foreign humanitarian assistance operations. This publication has been prepared under the direction of the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff (CJCS). It sets forth joint doctrine to govern the activities and performance of the Armed Forces of the United States in joint operations and it provides considerations for military interaction with governmental and nongovernmental agencies, multinational forces, and other interorganizational partners. Why buy a book you can download for free? We print the paperback book so you don't have to. First, you gotta find a good, clean, legible copy and make sure it's the latest version, not always easy. Some documents found on the web are missing some pages or the image quality is so poor they are difficult to read. If you find a good copy, you could print it using a network printer you share with 100 other people; typically, it's either out of paper or toner. If it's just a 10-page document, no problem, but if it's 250 pages, you will need to punch 3 holes in all those pages and put it in a 3-ring binder. Takes at least an hour. It's much more cost-effective to just order the bound paperback from Amazon.com. This book includes original commentary, which is copyright material. Note that government documents are in the public domain. We print these paperbacks as a service so you don't have to. The books are compact, tightly bound paperback, full size 8 1/2 by 11 inches, with large text and glossy covers. 4th Watch Publishing Co. is a HUBZONE SDVOSB <https://usgovpub.com> Joint Publication JP 3-29 Foreign Humanitarian Assistance 17 March 2009 United States Army, 2012-11-11 This publication provides joint

Responding to Violent Conflicts and Humanitarian Crises Pamela Aall, Dan Snodderly, 2021-01-08 This book introduces the four principal sets of institutions that engage in bringing peace and relief to societies mired in violent conflicts and humanitarian crises the United Nations and other international bodies non governmental organizations civilian government agencies and militaries Because these institutions have distinct goals as well as overlapping mandates and activities on the ground they do not always collaborate effectively due in part to a lack of familiarity with how the other institutions are organized make decisions or act on the ground Despite declining public support for large scale state building missions recently more complex interagency efforts have evolved in partnership with host country governments Numerous third parties continue to undertake peacebuilding stabilization and humanitarian relief measures around the globe This book is intended primarily for those serving in the field but it is also helpful to headquarters personnel and policymakers as well as military and agency trainees and university students

When Rambo Meets the Red Cross Stanislava P. Mladenova, 2024-04-01 Non governmental organizations and militaries are notorious for their difficult relationship The military is mostly understood through the prism of its lethality and

NGOs are perceived as idealistic do gooders ready to save the world Stanislava P Mladenova traces the changing character of interaction between both of these entities She argues that the boundaries which once separated their functions are fading Fragile ungoverned and insecure spaces need both of what these actors can provide As a result they have drawn closer together and have everything at their disposal for a collaborative efficient and productive civil military partnership which is contrary to what many observers and leaders in the conflict and development space have long believed Mladenova makes a convincing case that it is high time both sets of actors put aside their differences bringing to light a fast changing landscape of vicious poverty insecurity and climate change where the conventional way of doing business will become the exception not the rule

Expeditionary Surgery at Sea Matthew D. Tadlock, Amy A. Hernandez, 2023-03-16 Currently no comprehensive practical surgical textbook or other reference exists for the management of injured and other surgical patients at sea This text focuses on the increasingly important field of medical and surgical management of patients in the modern expeditionary maritime environment The editors and contributors to this new handbook are a group of physicians nurses and corpsmen with extensive experience in caring for patients in the expeditionary maritime environment designing and implementing current doctrine and policy and publishing peer reviewed articles focused on these topics This handbook takes the approach of a how to manual for the management of combat or disaster victims beginning at the point of injury and proceeding through each stage of care until they leave the maritime environment This includes sections on prehospital care triage en route care and maritime mass casualty management as well as additional chapters covering unique aspects of maritime platforms capabilities and missions. The bulk of the book focuses on the initial patient evaluation and resuscitation as well as the operative and perioperative phases of care including prolonged casualty care. The primary focus throughout the book is on simple practical and proven practices that can be easily understood and implemented by physicians and independent providers of any experience level who may find themselves in similar situations. For the clinical chapters each begins with a clinical vignette relevant to the chapter based on actual patients or maritime scenarios experienced by the authors demonstrating the various challenges that can occur caring for injured and surgical patients at sea while deployed on maritime and amphibious platforms. When appropriate each clinical chapter will conclude by describing the recommended management and outcome of the patient presented in the vignette that opened the chapter. The style is plain and direct language avoiding scientific jargon and unnecessary complexity whenever possible. Each chapter begins with 5 to 10 bullet points that summarize the key information or BLUF bottom line up front from that chapter and conclude with common tips and pitfalls as well as recommended high yield resources for the entire maritime surgical team.

Military Statecraft and the Rise of Shaping in World Politics Kyle J. Wolfley, 2021-06-29 Winner of the Andrew F. Krepinevich Writing Award A 2022 Choice Reviews Outstanding Academic Title Selected for the Irregular Warfare Initiative's Inaugural Reading List 2022. In today's complex international environment how do the United States, China, and Russia manage the return of great power competition as well as the persistent threat of violent non-state actors? This book explores shaping the use of military power to construct a more favorable environment by influencing the characteristics of other militaries, altering the relationships between them, or managing the behavior of allies. As opposed to traditional strategies of warfighting or coercion, shaping relies less on threats, demonstrations, and uses of violence and more on attraction, persuasion, and legitimacy. Because shaping relies more on soft power than on hard power, this approach contradicts the conventional wisdom of the purpose militaries serve. Kyle J. Wolfley explores the emergence of shaping in classical strategy and its increased frequency following the end of the Cold War when threats and allies became more ambiguous. He illustrates the four logics of shaping: attraction, socialization, delegation, and assurance through five case studies of recent major military exercise programs led by the United States, China, India, the United Kingdom, and Russia. Moreover, the author reveals through sentiment analysis and statistics of over one thousand multinational exercises from 1980 to 2016 how major powers reacted to a complex international environment by expanding the number and scope of shaping exercises. Illuminating an understudied but surprisingly common tool of military statecraft, this book offers a fresh understanding of military power in today's competitive international system.
