Singh, Art of Effective English Writing Masculinity and the English Working Class Ying Lee,2016-05-06 This book examines representations of working class masculine subjectivity in Victorian autobiography and fiction In it Ying focuses on ideas of domesticity and the male body and demonstrates that working class masculinities differ substantially from those of the widely studied upper classes The book also maps the relationship between two trends the early nineteenth century efflorescence of published working class autobiographies in which working men construct their identities for a broad readership and a contemporaneous surge of public interest in the lower orders that finds reflection in the depiction of working class characters in popular novels by middle class authors The book mimics this point of convergence by pairing three working class autobiographies with three middle class novels Each chapter focuses on a particular type of work domestic service manual not artisanal labour and literary labour and the opportunities it offers for social advancement Ying considers the specific ways in which classed and gendered consciousness emerges autobiographically and its significance in the writing of working class subjectivity for public consumption Then mainstream novels by Charles Dickens Elizabeth Gaskell and Charles Kingsley are re read from the perspective of these autobiographical pressure points English Literature, Its History and Its Signi the English-Speaking World William J. Long,2016-09-05 This book which presents the whole splendid history of English literature from Anglo Saxon times to the close of the Victorian Era has three specific aims The first is to create or to encourage in every student the desire to read the best books and to know literature itself rather than what has been written about literature The second is to interpret literature both personally and historically that is to show how a great book generally reflects not only the author s life and thought but also the spirit of the age and the ideals of the nation's history The third aim is to show by a study of each successive period how our literature has steadily developed from its first simple songs and stories to its present complexity in prose and poetry To carry out these aims we have introduced the following features 1 A brief accurate summary of historical events and social conditions in each period and a consideration of the ideals which stirred the whole nation as in the days of Elizabeth before they found expression in literature 2 A study of the various literary epochs in turn showing what each gained from the epoch preceding and how each aided in the development of a national literature 3 A readable biography of every important writer showing how he lived and worked how he met success or failure how he influenced his age and how his age influenced him 4 A study and analysis of every author's best works and of many of the books required for college entrance examinations 5 Selections enough especially from earlier writers and from writers not likely to be found in the home or school library to indicate the spirit of each author's work and directions as to the best works to read and where such works may be found in inexpensive editions 6 A frank untechnical discussion of each great writer's work as a whole and a critical estimate of his relative place and influence in our literature
