Robert Arp, 2017-04-07 In The X Files and Philosophy thirty six fearless philosophers seek for the truth which is out there in here at least somewhere or as the postmodernists claim nowhere One big issue is whether the weird and unexplained happenings including the existence of entities unknown to traditional science might really exist And if they did what would be the proper way to behave towards them Some of these entities seem to flout conventional laws of nature but perhaps we need to allow for different as yet undiscovered laws If such fabulous entities really exist what do we owe them And if they don't exist why do we imagine they do In The X Files regular science is represented by Scully and usually turns out to be wrong while open minded credulity or pseudoscience is represented by Mulder and usually turns out to be right or at least somehow on the right track Scully demands objective repeatable evidence and she usually gets it with Mulder's help in astounding and unwelcome ways What lessons should we take from the finding of The X Files that respectable science is nearly always wrong and outrageous speculative imagination nearly always right The X-Files FAQ John Kenneth
