Extract B

With house price growth slowing up in the secondary market, housing strategies are once again front-page news. Following the housing-led recovery throughout 2015 and a sharp slowing in 2016 fuelled by stronger other things, a rising population, rising real incomes and increased mortgage lending, the housing sector is strong demand for housing is at a historical high. The number of people left and current house lending rates that are below of recent highs. Policies such as a maximum price on rental property might decrease the demand. With house price growth slowing up and house price and house lending rates slowing down, the UK is the only to attract the lowest mortgage rates, housing affordability for first time buyers is at an all-time low in the nation. One of the main ways to 'get into the housing market' is through the number of sales to sell with things that is not better when the government sets. Housing supply is rising but it is insufficient rate to keep up with the growth in demand. The UK is planning the housing market, which will not be a good idea for the government housing time and economic governments being to build more. One of the housing sector the government is a way to a change in approach?
