Visual Attention-Related Processing Andrea Tales,Claire J. Hanley,2021-08-30 Visual attention is essential for environmental interactions but our ability to respond to stimuli gradually declines across the lifespan and such deficits are even more pronounced in various states of cognitive impairment Examining the integrity of related components from elements of attention capture to executive control will improve our understanding of related declines by helping to explain behavioural and neural effects which will ultimately contribute towards our knowledge of the extent of dysfunctional attention processes and their impact upon everyday life Accordingly this Special Issue represents a body of literature that fundamentally advances insights into visual attention processing featuring studies spanning healthy ageing mild cognitive impairment and dementia Virtual and Mixed Reality - New Trends, Part I Randall Shumaker, 2011-06-24 The two volume set LNCS 6773 6774 constitutes the refereed proceedings of the International Conference on Virtual and Mixed Reality 2011 held as Part of HCI International 2011 in Orlando FL USA in July 2011 jointly with 10 other conferences addressing the latest research and development efforts and highlighting the human aspects of design and use of computing systems The 43 revised papers included in the first volume were carefully reviewed and selected from numerous submissions The papers are organized in the following topical sections augmented reality applications virtual and immersive environments novel interaction devices and techniques in VR human physiology and behavior in VR environments
