Black Nothing John Arthur Cooper, 2018-04-12 Black Nothing Joel is happily living with Janey on her farm in Mid Wales when his unconventional past careers back into his life His mother is on the verge of death when he's arrested Incarceration in prison exposes him to a new level of society new people and new habits that drastically change his life His quandary is when and to whom should he disclose the circumstances of his predicament He chooses badly and coupled with the untimely intervention of fate remains in prison Eventually he's removed and given an illusion of freedom as Her Majesty's Government make him an offer he can't refuse His task sees him travel to Nepal and Vietnam One location leading to the other as dilemmas multiply into a personal morass of conflicting feelings emotions and necessities The dry dust of Kathmandu reflected against the soaking humidity of the Mekong Delta Extreme poverty reflected by wealth and privilege Bizarre surreal experiences that take him to see sights few people have ever seen Sadhus and burning bodies High peaks Snake swallowing drum majors at funeral ceremonies It was if death surrounded him Experiences and new perceptions of life impacted strongly on him Making his simplistic mission anything but New people entered his life All were not what he expected His return home was hopeful supported by his payment Joel hopes for a conventional life One more simple task in England and his life could resume its uneventful course

The green bleakness of the Marches comforts him as mundane normal people reappear in his life The rattle of trains The lilting Welsh voices ease him back home Once home he finds again that nothing is simple as he descends into a whirlwind downward spiral triggered by awful events Joel searches and ponders how anyone who is good can do so many bad things Is there anyone he can truly rely on
