

Tailgate Will Not Retract

FIG. 7

FIG. 7: Tailgate (Closed, Tailgate Retracting)

Operation

After the tailgate closes, the tailgate moves back into the home position. The oil in the cylinder of the tailgate is able because there is no movement in the cylinder since the tailgate is closed. The pressure is forced through port A and the solenoid valve is energized. The oil then passes through the pilot operated check valve. The pressure of the oil passes through the floating orifice, and out of port L, and into the rod end of the tailgate cylinder. The oil is returned from the base end of the cylinder. The oil then passes through port R and the tailgate solenoid. The return of pressure through the 3.000 orifice and port R, and to the hydraulic remote valve.

Troubleshooting

- Make sure the tractor remote valve is in the correct position. The tractor remote valve must be shifted as pressure of oil from the tractor solenoid port A on the side of the tractor valve.
- Check to make sure the tailgate moves freely. Make sure the lubrication points are properly lubricated.

- Make sure there is not a problem with the tractor hydraulic system. The tractor hydraulic system must have a minimum of 12.410 psi (1600 psi). See the service manual for the tractor and check the tractor hydraulic system.
- The problem can be caused by the speed not moving in the tailgate solenoid valve.
- The problem can be caused by tail piston seal in a tailgate cylinder or tailgate cylinder. Oil flows around the piston seal so there is not enough pressure available to retract the tailgate cylinder.
- The problem can be a plugged orifice in port R or floating orifice plate in port L in the tailgate valve.
- The problem can be caused by an electrical problem with the solenoid.
- The problem can be caused by defects in the tailgate up or down position.

Kicker Will Not Stay in The Home Position

FIG. 8

- The problem can be caused by a tail pilot operated check valve in the tailgate solenoid valve. When the tailgate is in the retracted position, oil is held in the rod end of the tailgate cylinder by the pilot operated check valve. If the pilot operated check valve is not closed, oil can flow from the rod end of the tailgate cylinder and the tailgate will move down from the retracted position.
- The problem can be caused by tail piston seal in a tailgate cylinder. When the tailgate is in the retracted position, oil is held in the rod end of the tailgate cylinder by the pilot operated check valve. If a piston seal is bad, the oil from the rod end of the tailgate cylinder can flow to the base end. This will let the tailgate move down from the retracted position.
