Contagion Capitalism Sean Creaven,2023-12-15 Contagion Capitalism situates the COVID 19 pandemic within the systems of global political economy and their attendant cultural modes and theorizes that these systems act as facilitators and drivers of global pandemic risk Contagion Capitalism therefore critiques the institutionalized corporate capitalist control of the economy the state and science and the grave consequences this has on global public health policy the ecological crisis of sustainability and zoonotic pandemic events such as COVID 19 In doing so this book addresses the failings of what may be termed as state science or establishment science in managing the pandemic as personified especially by those elements of the scientific elite placed in the service of the neoliberal state This book also explores the limitations of corporate pharmacological technoscience in safeguarding public health arguing that Big Pharma offers only partial remedies for problems of human illness and well being poses its own dangers to public health and obfuscates the social bases of public ill health and of pandemic risk Contagion Capitalism further argues that COVID 19 will not be the last or even the most dangerous such epidemiological event This is because the social production and global dissemination of zoonotic diseases is integral to contemporary capitalism by virtue of its instrumental mode of science its central dynamic of production for the sake of accumulation and the consumer mode this sustains as its own condition of existence These are the drivers of what may be termed as zoonotic accelerationism Contagion Capitalism will appeal to scholars in the humanities and social sciences with interests in neoliberal ideology and global political economy and their impact upon social political and cultural life “The” Athenaeum ,1866 State of Primary Education in Bhutan Gembo Tshering,2025-04-30 Discover how Bhutan s unique cultural values and aspirations shape its education system in this edited volume This comprehensive book explores the multifaceted nature of Bhutan s primary education examining critical areas such as purpose and values curriculum design assessment strategies and the roles of diversity and inclusion It addresses vital topics like teacher development parental involvement and the impact of governance and funding on educational quality The research reveals that Bhutan s educational framework uniquely aligns with its cultural ethos emphasizing holistic development over conventional success metrics The chapters thoroughly analyze the current landscape of primary education in Bhutan and outline contributions from various stakeholders as well as serving as a roadmap for a future where research and data driven innovations drive educational improvements Revealing the intricate relationship between context and learning the volume offers a fresh perspective on how Bhutan navigates its primary education landscape and is a must read for anyone interested in innovative approaches to education Readers will learn how Bhutan strives to foster well rounded individuals prepared to thrive in an increasingly complex world It provides invaluable guidance for educators policymakers and stakeholders seeking to enhance primary education Connecting Museums Mark O'Neill, Glenn Hooper, 2019-10-16 Connecting Museums explores the boundaries of museums and how external relationships are affected by internal commitments structures and traditions Focusing on museums relationship with health inclusion and community the book provides a detailed assessment of the alliances between museums and other stakeholders in recent years With contributions from practitioners and established and early career academics this volume explore the ideas and practices through which museums are seeking to move beyond what might be called one off contributions to society to reach places where the museum is dynamic and facilitates self generation and renewal where it can become not just a provider of a cultural service but an active participant in the rehabilitation of social trust and democratic participation The contributors to this volume provide conceptual critiques and clarification of a number of key ideas which form the basis of the ethics of museum legitimacy as well as a number of reports from the front line about the experience of trying to renew museums as more valuable and more relevant institutions Providing internal and external perspectives Connecting Museums presents a mix of applied and theoretical understandings of the changing roles of museums today As such the book should be of interest to academics researchers and students working in the broad fields of museum and heritage studies material culture and arts and museum management Global Perspectives on Childhood Obesity Debasis Bagchi, 2019-02-06 Global Perspectives on Childhood Obesity Current Status Consequences and Prevention Second Edition examines the current childhood obesity epidemic outlines the consequences of this crisis and develops strategies to forestall and prevent it This book provides a thorough investigation of the causes of childhood obesity and more importantly offers specific prevention strategies that can be used by medical and mental health professionals policymakers community organizers and individuals New chapters on BMI and cardiovascular disease exercise neurotransmitters neurocognition nutrigenomics and combined prevention strategies are included making this a solid introduction on the childhood obesity crisis Researchers practitioners and advanced students in public health health policy and health economics as well those working in medicine pharmacy nutrition school health physiology and neuroscience related to obesity will find this to be a comprehensive resource Covers the multifaceted factors contributing to the rapidly growing childhood obesity epidemic Includes new chapters on BMI and cardiovascular disease exercise neurotransmitters self regulation and prevention strategies Examines strategies for childhood obesity prevention and treatment such as physical activity and exercise personalized nutrition plans and school and community involvement Post-Soviet Geography ,1996 Education for Sustainable Development Brian Chalkley, Martin Haigh, David Higgitt, 2013-09-13 In 2005 The United Nations launched its Decade of Education for

Sustainable Development which recognises that education including Higher Education is the key to the change in social attitudes that will be needed to protect the welfare of future generations This involves helping learners to live as though the future matters and to achieve ecoliteracy This includes the understanding that personal lifestyle decisions may have consequences ranging from climate change through loss of biodiversity to pollution and resource depletion that may permit environmental degradation on a planetary scale It also involves helping them to develop the skills needed to cope with such challenges This international collection of research papers and position statements from special issues of the Journal of Geography in Higher Education and Applied Environmental Education and Communication written by many of the leading practitioners in the field aims to provide resources and practical guidance for all seeking to promote and engage in education for a sustainable future Rabindranath Tagore encouraged each learner to make their actions demonstrate a harmonious union between education and environment David Orr argued that the world needs people who live well in their places to make the world both habitable and humane and that the main challenge for education is to help learners make their minds fit for life on Earth This book tries to chart a practical route towards these objectives This book was previously published as special issues of the Journal of Geography in Higher Education and Applied Environmental Education and Communication

Advancing Research on Teachers' Professional Vision: Implementing novel Technologies, Methods and Theories Christian Kosel,Tina Seidel ,Christian Hartmann,Ann-Sophie Grub,2024-07-25 A classroom full of students can be overwhelming for teachers It is critical that teachers are able to filter and meaningfully interpret the relevant information in this complex scenario Much of this filtering and interpretation occurs through selective visual perception Over the last decade a rapidly growing number of studies in empirical educational research used eye tracking to investigate teachers selective visual perceptual processes in the classroom Theoretically visual attention and perception are often conceptualized as knowledge based noticing coupled with knowledge based reasoning about what is visually perceived Recent eye tracking studies have shown that experienced teachers in particular show improved selective attention of classroom events through faster detection of relevant information and improved monitoring of learning relevant situations Researchers agree that a critical driver of selective attention processes is the professional knowledge declarative procedural and metacognitive of experienced teachers which controls selective perceptual processes in a top down process The findings are significant and provide important insights for research on teacher professionalization

Diversity in African languages Doris L. Payne,Sara Pacchiarotti,Mokaya Bosire ,2016-12-31 Diversity in African Languages contains a selection of revised papers from the 46th Annual Conference on African Linguistics held at the University of Oregon Most chapters focus on single languages addressing diverse aspects of their phonology morphology semantics syntax information structure or historical development These chapters represent nine different genera Mande Gur Kwa Edoid Bantu Nilotic Gumuzic Cushitic and Omotic Other chapters investigate a mix of languages and families moving from typological issues to sociolinguistic and inter ethnic factors that affect language and accent switching Some chapters are primarily descriptive while others push forward the theoretical understanding of tone semantic problems discourse related structures and other linguistic systems The papers on Bantu languages reflect something of the internal richness and continued fascination of the family for linguists as well as maturation of research on the family The distribution of other papers highlights the need for intensified research into all the language families of Africa including basic documentation in order to comprehend linguistic diversities and convergences across the continent In this regard the chapter on Daats i in Gumuzic stands out as the first ever published article on this hitherto unknown and endangered language found in the Ethiopian Sudanese border lands

Justice and Cities Mark Davidson, 2023-06-20 This book explores different theories of justice and explains how these connect to broader geographical questions and inform our understanding of urban problems Since philosophers like Socrates debated in the ancient agora cities have prompted arguments about the best ways to live together Cities have also produced some of the most vexing moral problems including the critical question of what obligations we have to people we neither know nor affiliate with The first part of this book outlines the most well developed answers to these questions the justice theories of Utilitarianism Libertarianism Liberalism Marxism Communitarianism Conservatism and recent post critiques Within each theory we find a set of geographical propensities that shape the ways purveyors of the theories see the city and its moral problems The central thesis of the book is therefore that competing moral theories have distinct geographical concerns and perspectives and that these propensities often condition how the city and its injustices are understood The second part of the book features three studies of contemporary urban problems gentrification segregation and un affordability to demonstrate how predominant justice theories generate distinctive moral and geographical interpretations This book therefore serves as an urbanist s guide to justice theory written for undergraduates and postgraduates studying human geography urban and municipal planning urban theory and urban politics sociology and politics and government
