

ENDOCRINE SYSTEM

Endocrine System: WORKING TOGETHER

Each organ system works on other systems within the body to do its "job". Our bodies learn just some of the ways that the endocrine system interacts with other organ systems.

Nervous System

Circulatory System

Endocrine System: FACTS

Endocrine System: PROBLEMS

Most of the time, the endocrine system works perfectly well. However, sometimes problems can arise.

Diabetes

Diabetes is a condition that causes high blood glucose (sugar) levels. It is caused by the body being unable to either produce or use the hormone insulin. So, the glucose in the blood gets stuck or stays too high. Symptoms include increased thirst, weight gain, changes in vision, frequent urination, changes in mood, numbness or tingling in the hands.

Endocrine System: KEY TERMS

Term	Definition
Endocrine System	Network of endocrine glands that make, store, and release hormones.
Hormones	Chemical messengers that carry information and instructions from one cell to another.

Endocrine System: HORMONES

Hormones are chemical signals. Hormones are released into the bloodstream by endocrine glands. They travel through the bloodstream and bind to target cells, which then respond by changing their behavior. Hormones can be made by the endocrine system or by other parts of the body.

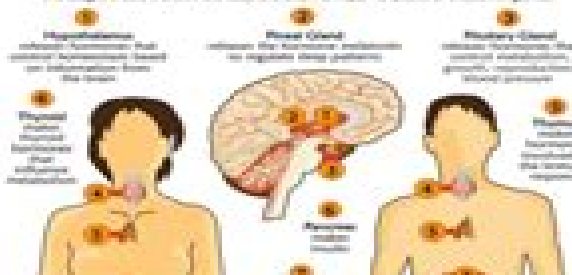

Endocrine System: FIGHT-OR-FLIGHT

The fight-or-flight response is a reaction that occurs in the body when we are really frightened. The brain (specifically the hypothalamus) tells our adrenal glands to release the hormone adrenaline. Adrenaline then tells our heart to beat faster, our lungs to breathe faster, and our muscles to get ready to move. This is our body's way of preparing itself to either fight or flee when we are in danger.

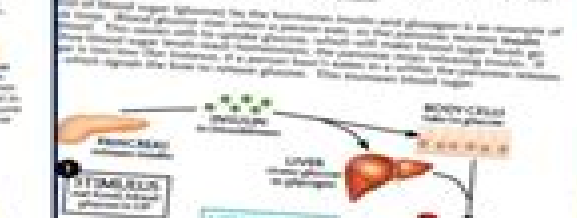

Endocrine System: GLANDS

A gland is a structure that produces and releases substances that perform a specific function in the body. There are two types of glands: exocrine glands and endocrine glands. Exocrine glands release their products into a duct, while endocrine glands release their products directly into the bloodstream.

Endocrine System: FEEDBACK LOOPS

Endocrine activities are regulated by complex feedback loops. These feedback loops help the body maintain a balance of hormones. When a hormone level is too high or too low, the body sends a signal to the glands to either produce more or less of that hormone. This signal is called a feedback loop.
