

Autobiography Rough Draft

My name is Samantha Rose Peluchette and I was born 12 weeks premature on January 3, 1992 in Allegheny General Hospital at 9:36 pm. When I was born I weighed 2 lbs. 13 oz. and I could fit in my dad's hand. My mother, Hope Edwards, was 15 years old and my dad, Daniel Peluchette, was 19 years old. I was in the hospital in an incubator until April because I was born so early.

My mother grew up in Wexford, Pa and went to Pine Richland High School. My dad grew up in Saxonburg, Pa and went to Deer Lakes High School. My grandma, great-grandparents, aunts, and uncles on my mother's side of the family still live in or around Wexford. My mom's father lives in New Castle, Pa. My dad's parents both passed away before I met them, but they lived in Saxonburg, Pa. My dad's brother lives in Tarentum and my dad's aunts and uncles and my great-grandma live in Grove City, Pa. On my mother's side, my great-grandma was Slovakian and my great-grandpa was Polish, German, and Native American. On my dad's side of the family, everyone is Italian. On my mom's side of the family, everyone has been living in western Pennsylvania for as long as any of us can remember, but my grandma says that my great-great-great-grandparents came to America from Poland and Germany. On my dad's side of the family I don't know very many of my family members, so I'm not sure how they came to live in Grove City, Pa.

After I was born, my mom and dad separated and I went to live with my great-grandma until I was seven years old. While I lived with my great-grandma, I went to North Allegheny School District, went to a Baptist church every Sunday, and played with my friends. When I was seven, I moved in with my mom and my now step-dad, Jim. This

Henry Miller and Narrative Form James Decker, 2006-06-01 In this bold study James M Decker argues against the commonly held opinion that Henry Miller's narratives suffer from formlessness. He instead positions Miller as a stylistic pioneer whose place must be assured in the American literary canon. From Moloch to Nexus through such widely read texts as Tropic of Cancer and Tropic of Capricorn, Decker examines what Miller calls his spiral form, a radically digressive style that shifts wildly between realism and the fantastic. Drawing on a variety of narratological and critical sources as well as Miller's own aesthetic theories, he highlights that this fragmented narrative style formed part of a sustained critique of modern spiritual decay. A deliberate move rather than a compositional weakness, then, Miller's style finds a wide variety of antecedents in the work of such figures as Nietzsche, Rabelais, Joyce, Bergson, and Whitman, and is viewed by Decker as an attempt to chart the journey of the self through the modern city. Henry Miller and Narrative Form affords readers new insights into some of the most challenging writings of the twentieth century and provides a template for understanding the significance of an extraordinary and inventive narrative form. Encyclopedia of the Essay Tracy Chevalier, 2012-10-12

This groundbreaking new source of international scope defines the essay as nonfictional prose texts of between one and 50 pages in length. The more than 500 entries by 275 contributors include entries on nationalities, various categories of essays such as generic such as sermons, aphorisms, individual major works, notable writers, and periodicals that created a market for essays, and particularly famous or significant essays. The preface details the historical development of the essay, and the alphabetically arranged entries usually include biographical sketch, nationality, era, selected writings, list of additional readings, and anthologies. Autobiographical Statements in Twentieth-Century Russian Literature Jane Gary

Harris, 2014-07-14 The fifteen essays in this volume explore the extraordinary range and diversity of the autobiographical mode in twentieth-century Russian literature from various critical perspectives. They will whet the appetite of readers interested in penetrating beyond the canonical texts of Russian literature. The introduction focuses on the central issues and key problems of current autobiographical theory and practice in both the West and in the Soviet Union, while each essay treats an aspect of autobiographical praxis in the context of an individual author's work and often in dialogue with another of the included writers. Examined here are first the experimental writings of the early years of the twentieth century: Rozanov, Remizov, and Bely; second the unique autobiographical statements of the mid-1920s through the early 1940s: Mandelstam, Pasternak, Olesha, and Zoshchenko; and finally the diverse and vital contemporary writings of the 1960s through the 1980s as exemplified not only by creative writers but also by scholars, by Soviet citizens as well as by emigrants: Trifonov, Nadezhda Mandelstam, Lydia Ginzburg, Nabokov, Jakobson, Sinyavsky, and Limonov. The Real Negro Shelly Eversley,2004-03-29 In this book Shelly Eversley historicizes the demand for racial authenticity what Zora Neale Hurston called the real Negro in twentieth century American literature Eversley argues that the modern emergence of the interest in the real Negro transforms the question of what race an author belongs into a question of what it takes to belong to that race Consequently Paul Laurence Dunbar s Negro dialect poems were prized in the first part of the century because written by a black man they were not imitation black while the dialect performances by Zora Neale Hurston were celebrated because written by a real black they were not imitation white The second half of the century in its dismissal of material segregation sanctions a notion of black racial meaning as internal and psychological and thus promotes a version of black racial truth as invisible and interior yet fixed within a stable conception of difference The Real Negro foregrounds how investments in black racial specificity illuminate the dynamic terms that define what makes a text and a person black while it also reveals how blackness spoken and authentic guards a more fragile because unspoken commitment to the purity and primacy of whiteness as a stable uncontested ideal

Consuming Autobiographies Claire Boyle, 2017-12-02 Since 1975 French literary writing has been marked by an autobiographical turn which has seen authors increasingly often tap into the vein of what the French term écriture de soi

This coincides paradoxically with the death of autobiography as these authors self consciously distance themselves and their writings from conventional autobiography founding a nouvelle autobiographie where the very possibility of autobiographical expression is questioned In the first book length study in English to address this phenomenon Claire Boyle sheds a new light on this hostility toward autobiography through a series of ground breaking studies of estrangement in autobiographical works by major post war authors Nathalie Sarraute Georges Perec Jean Genet and Helene Cixous She identifies autobiography as a site of conflict between writer and reader as authors struggle to assert the unknowableness of their identity in the face of a readership resolutely desiring privileged knowledge Autobiography emerges as a deeply troubling genre for authors with the reader as an antagonistic consumer of the autobiographical self
