falls into the realm of luck When authorities categorize a given event as highly likely how likely is that really Whether we re trying to decide if the benefits of a new medication are worth the chance of side effects or if artificial intelligence truly threatens humanity our lives are riddled with uncertainties both everyday and existential yet it can be difficult to know how to properly weigh all those unknowns Luckily for us renowned statistician David Spiegelhalter has spent his career dissecting data to resolve the apparently random and decode the many decisions we face with imperfect information In The Art of Uncertainty he shows how we can become better at dealing with what we don t know to make smarter choices in a world so full of puzzling variables In lucid lively prose Spiegelhalter guides us through the principles of probability illustrating how they can help us think more analytically about everything from medical advice to sports to climate change forecasts He demonstrates how taking a mathematical approach to phenomena we might otherwise attribute to fate or luck can help us sort hidden patterns from mere coincidences better evaluate cause and effect and predict what s likely to happen in the future Along the way we learn how a misinterpretation of a probability contributed to the infamous Bay of Pigs fiasco why a ship twice the size of the Titanic sank without a trace and why we can be so confident that no two properly shuffled decks of cards have ever been in the same order Sparkling with wit and fascinating real world examples this is an essential guide to navigating uncertainty while also retaining the humility to admit what we don t or simply cannot know

2012 GCSE English results Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Education Committee,2013-06-11 The 2012 GCSE English results prompted significant controversy which ultimately resulted in an application for judicial review This report sets out the background to these events and identifies lessons to be learned The problems with GCSE English can be traced back to the 2007 09 development phase of the qualification in particular the turbulence which resulted from the shift away from a mostly linear to a modular system combined with a high proportion of controlled assessment and generous marking tolerances Exam board experts raised concerns at the time but these were not acted upon by the regulator the then interim Ofqual Further difficulties arose because of pressures from the school accountability system The problems experienced with GCSE English in 2012 highlighted serious weaknesses in the moderation of speaking and listening with consequences for grade awarding The current status of Ofqual as an independent regulator accountable to Parliament is the right one However the Coalition Government is bringing in wholesale changes to GCSEs and A levels to a tight timetable and at the same time Ofqual must have systems in place The Committee is also concerned that there is a rush towards separate exam systems for England Wales and Northern Ireland without careful reflection on what might be lost or consensus that this is the right thing to do

Educating Tomorrow's Engineers Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Science and Technology Committee, 2013-02-08 In the UK we teach young people to become computer users and consumers rather than programmers and software engineers This is creating a chronic skills gap in ICT We need around 82 000 engineers and technicians just to deal with retirements up to 2016 and 830 000 SET professionals by 2020 On the plus side the Government's proposal to include computer science as a fourth science option to count towards the EBac is welcomed The Committee also welcomes the EBac's focus on attainment of mathematics and science GCSEs but is concerned that subjects such as Design and Technology D T might be marginalised A Technical Baccalaureate TechBac is being designed but if it is to be a success schools should be incentivised to focus on the TechBac by making it equivalent to the EBac Reforms to vocational education following the Wolf Review meant that Level 2 of the Engineering Diploma a qualification highly regarded would count as equivalent to one GCSE despite requiring curriculum time and effort equivalent to several GCSEs The Engineering Diploma however is currently being redesigned as four separate qualifications The Committee also expressed concerns over the Department for Education's DfE lack of clarity on its research budget and use of evidence in decision making The DfE needs to place greater focus on gathering evidence before changes to qualifications are made and must leave sufficient time for evidence to be gathered on the effectiveness of policies before introducing further change The possibility of gathering evidence from randomised controlled trials RCTs should be seriously considered
