Learning Progressions in Geography Education

Osvaldo Muñoz Solari, Michael Solem, Richard Boehm, 2016-07-30

This book informs an international audience of teachers, scholars, and policymakers about the development of learning progressions for primary and secondary geography education in various countries and regions of the world. The book represents an important contribution to learning progressions research and practice. The different chapters explore how curriculum standards and frameworks in different countries portray progress and sophistication in the learning of geography. The book compares educational systems and how teachers and curriculum developers use the concept of learning progression to guide educational practices. As an approach to educational research, learning progressions offer considerable potential for understanding how children develop understanding of geographic concepts and practices across grade bands and in relation to national geography standards. The book analyzes the general conditions of learning progressions within the context of a globalized world. Important themes are addressed such as knowledge acquisition in formal education, measuring learning progressions in informal settings, learning progressions for one curriculum standard or several standards, conditions to assess progression in the learning of facts, concepts, and skills, and multiple pathways for understanding or learning geography. The contributing authors are experienced scientists in the field from all around the world, giving specific insights into the practices of their countries. The book appeals to K-12 teachers, school administrators, policymakers, researchers in geography.
