United States Army in World War II, 2004 The Quartermaster Corps William F. Ross, Charles F. Romanus, 1965

The Quartermaster Corps: Operations in the war against Germany, 1965 Bibliography of Scientific and Industrial Reports, 1947 The D-Day Training Pocket Manual, 1944 Chris McNab, 2019-08-14 Using excerpts from contemporary training manuals this pocket manual is an insight into the preparation of the troops involved in Operation Overlord The success of the D Day landings on June 6 1944 depended on thousands of troops carrying out their mission and the seamless coordination of the amphibious landings with paratrooper and glider assaults The troops not only had to be trained up ready for their own roles but to work alongside other troops often coordinating activities and communicating with other troops while in unfamiliar terrain and under fire This pocket manual brings together excerpts from Allied manuals used in the preparation for D Day including amphibious landings and managing beachheads pathfinder paratrooper and glider pilot training and infantry and armored fighting in the bocage countryside Chris McNab is a prolific writer who knows what he is doing as this book shows and this volume will fit well with its stable mates War History Online Journal of the United States Artillery, 1894 The Development of Mine Warfare Norman E. Youngblood, 2006-06-30 In 1997 the International Campaign to Ban Landmines ICBL coordinated the Convention on the Prohibition of the Use Stockpiling Production and Transfer of Anti Personnel Mines and on their Destruction As of mid 2005 145 states had signed the agreement The ICBL s efforts were in large part a response to the careless use of landmines in the previous fifty years The history of mine use in warfare however goes back much further than the World Wars of the 20th century and includes both land and sea use This first comprehensive study traces the technical tactical and ethical developments of mine warfare from ancient times to the present Beginning with mine warfare s roots in ancient Assyria and China Youngblood takes the reader through the centuries of debate about how these hidden weapons should be used A look at 19th century developments explores the intertwined development of land and sea mines and the inventors behind them including Robert Fulton Samuel Colt and Immanuel Nobel father of Alfred Nobel Subsequent chapters examine the use of mines in the American Civil War the Russo Japanese War both World Wars and the battlefields of the Cold War and chart key battles and technical innovations such as the development of air delivered munitions Finally the author addresses the ethical concerns raised by the careless mining namely the impact on civilians and the difficulties of de mining and the treaties that regulate landmine use Journal of the Royal United Service Institution Royal United Services Institute for Defence Studies, 1907 Hell in the Trenches Paolo Morisi, 2018-11-02 The Austro Hungarian Stormtroopers and the Italian Arditi of World War I were elite special forces charged with carrying out bold raids and daring attacks These units were comprised of hand picked soldiers that possessed above average courage physical prowess as well as specific combat skills Many military historians have argued that the First World War was mainly a static conflict of positional attrition but these shock troops were responsible for developing breakthrough tactics of both fire and movement that marked a significant change to the status quo Both armies used special assault detachments to capture prisoners conduct raids behind enemy lines and attack in depth in order to prepare the way for a broad infantry breakthrough This account traces the development of Austrian and Italian assault troop tactics in the context of trench warfare waged in the mountainous front of the Alps and the rocky hills of the Carso plateau It not only examines their innovative tactics but also their adoption of vastly improved new weapons such as light machine guns super heavy artillery flamethrowers hand grenades daggers steel clubs and poison gas This book offers a narrative of the organizational development of the shock and assault troops of their military operations and their combat methods The bulk of the chapters are devoted to a historical reconstruction of the assault detachments combat missions between 1917-18 by utilizing previously unreleased archival sources such as Italian and Austrian war diaries official manuals divisional and High Command reports and the soldiers own recollections of the war Finally it offers a comprehensive description of their uniforms equipment and weapons along with a large number of illustrations maps and period photographs rarely seen This epic trial of military strength of these special stormtroops cannot be properly understood without visiting and walking the battlefields The appendix thus offers the reader a series of walks to visits key high mountain fortifications in the Italian Dolomites many of which have attained almost legendary status
