

MOUTH

Food enters the alimentary canal through the mouth. It is chewed by teeth and broken into smaller pieces. The food is mixed with saliva that contains amylase.

LIVER

In the digestive system, the liver produces bile which helps with the digestion of fats and oils.

GALLBLADDER

The gallbladder is where bile is stored and concentrated.

PANCREAS

Biological catalysts called enzymes are produced in the pancreas. Digestive enzymes speed up the breaking down of large nutrient molecules.

SMALL INTESTINES

Food is mixed with digestive enzymes and bile in the small intestines. The enzymes speed up the digestive process. Nutrients are then absorbed into the bloodstream.

ESOPHAGUS

The fibromuscular tube connecting the mouth to the stomach is called the esophagus. Food is pushed down using a wave like muscular action called peristalsis.

STOMACH

The stomach is the muscular organ where food is mixed with gastric juices. Gastric juice has a low pH, meaning it is acidic, and is used to help digest food and kill potentially harmful bacteria.

LARGE INTESTINES

The large intestines are made up of two parts: the colon and the rectum. In the colon, water is reabsorbed from the food. Faeces are stored in the rectum until they are ready to be passed.

ANUS

Faeces leave the alimentary canal through the anus.
