Interim Report of the Committee on Changes in New Source Review Programs for Stationary Sources of Air Pollutants National Research Council, Division on Earth and Life Studies, Board on Environmental Studies and Toxicology, Committee on Changes in New Source Review Programs for Stationary Sources of Air Pollutants, 2005-02-14 The U S Environmental Protection Agency's New Source Review NSR programs are designed to help ensure that the construction or modification of factories electric generating facilities and other large stationary sources of pollutants will meet emissions criteria EPA revised the programs in order to provide flexibility and allow for improved energy efficiency in American industry without damaging the environment However critics argue the revisions could slow progress in cleaning the nation's air potentially damaging human health This interim report provides a synthesis of relevant background information and describes the approach the committee will use to assess the potential impact of the NSR revisions Conclusions will be issued in a final report later this year

Virtual Learning Environments Martin Weller, 2007-05-01 Virtual learning environments are widely spread in higher education yet they are often under utilised by the institutions that employ them This book addresses the need to move beyond thinking about the VLE simply in terms of the particular package that an institution has adopted and viewing it as a significant educational technology that will shape much of the teaching and learning process in the coming years Considering how virtual learning environments can be successfully deployed and used for effective teaching it sets out a model for effective use focussing on pedagogic application rather than a specific technology and seeks to provide a bridge between pedagogical approaches and the tools educators have at their disposal It contains essential advice for those choosing a VLE and encourages all those involved in the deployment of a VLEs to use them more productively in order to create engaging learning experiences
