The book is based on the premise that teaching is not just about the transmission of academic knowledge but also about inspiring students, building rapport with them, creating relationships based on empathy and trust, being patient and most importantly, controlling one's own emotions and being able to influence students' emotions in a positive way. The book covers a range of emotion-related topics on both positive and negative emotions which are relevant to language teaching, including emotional labour, burnout, emotion regulation, resilience, emotional intelligence, and wellbeing among others. These topics are studied within a wide range of contexts such as teacher education programmes, tertiary education, CLIL, and action research settings and primary and secondary schools across different countries. The book will appeal to any student, researcher, teacher, or policymaker who is interested in research on the psychological aspects of foreign language teaching.

UnSelfie Michele Borba, 2016-06-07 Hailed as an absolute must-read, Jean Twenge and a book that will change your kids' lives, Jack Canfield's UnSelfie by Dr. Michele Borba explains what parents and educators MUST do to combat the growing empathy crisis among children today, including a 9-step empathy-building program with tips to guide kids from birth through college and beyond. Teens today are forty percent less empathetic than they were thirty years ago. Why is a lack of empathy, which goes hand in hand with the self-absorption epidemic Dr. Michele Borba calls the Selfie Syndrome, so dangerous? First, it hurts kids' academic performance and leads to bullying behaviors. Also, it correlates with more cheating and less resilience. And once children grow up, a lack of empathy hampers their ability to collaborate, innovate, and problem-solve. All must-have skills for the global economy. In UnSelfie, Dr. Borba pinpoints the forces causing the empathy crisis and shares a revolutionary, researched-based nine-step plan for reversing it. The good news: Empathy is a trait that can be taught and nurtured. Dr. Borba offers a framework for parenting that yields the results we all want: successful, happy kids who are also kind, moral, courageous, and resilient. UnSelfie is a blueprint for parents and educators who want to help kids shift their focus from "I, me, and mine" to "we, us, and ours."

Writing the History of Emotions Ute Frevert, 2024-02-22 Emotions make history, and they have a history. They influence historical events such as revolutions, riots, and protest movements. At the same time, they are shaped by historical experiences tied to family, upbringing, education, and cultural institutions. Work and the home. Writing the History of Emotions shows how emotions like love, trust, honour, pride, shame, empathy, and greed have impacted historical change since the 18th century and were themselves dependent on social, political, and economic environments. Importantly, this book provides a timely exploration of racialized, gendered, class-based notions of emotions. This exciting addition to Bloomsbury's successful Writing History series analyses how emotions matter in and to history and how they are themselves objects of history. Here, leading scholar Ute Frevert eschews a traditional chronological history of emotions in favour of an innovative collection which transgresses time periods to illustrate the different emotional meanings one particular material object has had throughout history. This book sheds light on how emotions have been used, instrumentalised, and manipulated both to propel and suspend democratic politics. In doing so, it opens a rich new avenue of research for the history of emotions.
